UK Will Defend Suez

Tension Mounts In Canal Zone

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today Britain will defend her Suez Canal Zone bases if Egypt attacks them.

Churchill offered to renew at any time Anglo-Egyptian negotiations on the canal zone's future.

He said that if Egypt were to agree to the United States joining any new talks, "that would be still better."

But, Churchill emphasized, Britain has "no choice but to defend" herself in the canal zone if the Egyptians take threatening actions.

CAIRO (Reuters) — Premier Mohamed Naguib said Sunday "we have washed our hands of Anglo-Egyptian negotiations on the Suez Canal."

"We are nearing a great battle and every Egyptian should be ready for the supreme sacrifice," the Egyptian premier said in a speech delivered from a high dais facing the grave of Egypt's unknown soldier.

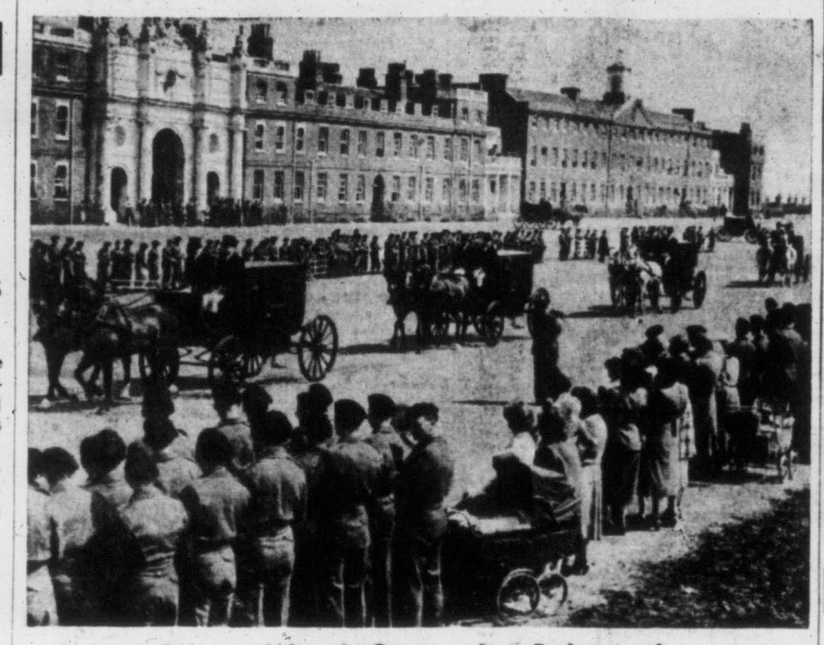
In other parts of the speech Naguib referred to Britain as "the enemy."

The Anglo-Egyptian talks on the Suez, which Egypt wants Britain to evacuate unconditionally, have been suspended. The premier's speech was not necessarily regarded as an announcement that the talks have been broken off, however.

The fiery words, which echoed statements in the last few days about an approaching "national struggle," seemed aimed at satisfying the more impatient members of Naguib's revolutionary council—and impressing John Foster Dulles, United States secretary of state, who arrives here today on his mid-East tour.

"We have washed our hands of Anglo-Egyptian negotiations on the Suez Canal and should be grateful to Britain for it," said Naguib. "Freedom is not a paper gift. . . . The true price of freedom is warm flowing blood."

CAIRO (CP) — State Secretary John Foster Dulles arrived by plane here today on the first stop of a 12-country fact-finding tour of the Middle East while Anglo-Egyptian tension mounted over the deadlocked Anglo-Egyptian talks on the future of the Suez Canal Zone. Dulles said he hoped his visit would "help clear up some misunderstandings," but he did not mention the Suez dispute.



Britons Watch Coronation Rehearsal

With an estimated crowd of 40,000 watching the Prime Minister's Royal Clarences rolled through the streets of London in a rehearsal of the Coronation procession on June 2. The Clarences are carriages pulled by handsomely decorated teams of horses. Rehearsal of the carriages which will carry the Queen and the royal family was held Sunday. (See story, Page 5.)

16 Rescued After Ship Founders in Big Storm

Heavy Seas, Wind Hamper Rescue Efforts Today; Bodies Recovered

GRAND MARIS, Minn. (AP) — The Great Lakes freighter Henry Steinbrenner, laden with iron ore, went down off Isle Royale in Lake Superior early today. At noon the coast guard station here had rescue-ship reports that 16 of the 31 men aboard had been picked up and one body recovered.

Other reports said as many as 22 men had been saved and that another body had been sighted.

One rescue vessel, the Clemson, reported she had seven crew members aboard, none in bad condition.

Commander Donald Call of the Grand Marais coast guard station said the ore ship Joseph Thompson reported she had saved seven men and that several were in need of medical attention.

The William Sykes, another vessel at the scene, reported she had "several" survivors.

Some of those rescued were pulled from the paralyzingly cold water wearing life jackets.

Winds 55 to 60 miles an hour buffeted the area Sunday night and early today. Heavy seas prevailed today as rescue boats headed for the scene, making slow progress as they bucked extremely rough water.

A report from the Clemson at 7.25 a.m. said the Steinbrenner had radioed her hatches had blown off in strong winds and that she was taking water.

New Blizzards Weather Menace

WINNIPEG (CP) — A spring blizzard was raging across the western prairies today after a wild week-end of snow and sleet that brought Saskatchewan what weather officials described as possibly the worst May storm in living memory.

The storm was sweeping Saskatchewan and Manitoba, and the weather office said temperatures will remain below freezing in most regions today.

Up to 6.30 today, precipitation readings included: Regina 1.83 inches, Dafoe 1.41, Yorkton 1.14, Winnipeg .85 and Rivers .22.

At 10 a.m., CDT, Winnipeg was being lashed by a 30-mile-an-hour north wind. The temperature was about freezing and the humidity 100 per cent.

The storm was blamed on a storm centre which stalled in North Dakota, forming "an intense storm area." It followed almost week of blistering heat in Manitoba which sent the mercury to record highs.

Intermittant thunder storms moved into Manitoba Saturday night and gradually merged in a heavy general rain. Overnight the rain changed to sleet and snow.

WIRE BRIEFS

Grain Infestation

REGINA (CP)—Reports of infestations of rusty grain beetles in grain stored both on farms and in elevators have been received from all parts of Saskatchewan and from as far north as Nipawin and Meadow Lake.

Embassy Threat

PARIS (UP)—A Foreign Office spokesman said today that a home-made bomb was discovered on a window sill on the Soviet Russian embassy last Thursday and that an investigation is under way.

Tariffs Promoted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House of Representatives ways and means committee turned its reciprocal trade hearings today to a hotly controversial proposal to limit imports of all petroleum products. The proposal has been denounced by Eisenhower administration officials as a move that could impair national security.

Lyttleton to Kenya

LONDON (Reuters)—Colonial Secretary Oliver Lyttleton will fly to Kenya Wednesday for a first-hand review of conditions in that troubled colony, the government announced. (See Gold Coast story page 3).

Israel to Protect Dulles During Visit

TEL AVIV Israel (AP)—Police laid a criminal charge today against Zvi Breitstein, editor of the Communist daily Kol Haam, because of his insults to State Secretary John Foster Dulles of the United States.

Breitstein, who was released on bail, was charged under article 77 of the Criminal Code—against "defamation of princes, heads of foreign states and other dignitaries."

Kol Haam has assailed the visit of Dulles, scheduled for Wednesday likening him to Hitler and urging parents to "hide their children while he will be in the country." The paper headlined the American's landing at Cairo today with these words: "The war-monger has arrived in Cairo."

The police also arrested a number of youths caught passing out Red-style leaflets calling for anti-Dulles demonstrations Wednesday.

"Dulles go home" signs also have been painted on some walls in Tel Aviv and Haifa.

Israeli police have been ordered to take special precautionary measures to protect the U.S. secretary of state and his party and prevent any demonstrations, it was learned.

The place where the group will spend the night Wednesday, before their departure for Jerusalem, has been kept secret.

YOUNGSTERS DIG BEATS

Hi-Times Staff Takes Over Tuesday

When the night assignment group of Hi-Times writers from Greater Victoria high schools goes on duty tonight, its members will be taking the first steps towards production of Tuesday's regular editions of The Times.

Once a year these Hi-Times writers do a special assignment. It entails coverage of general news in the city and environs, Monday night and Tuesday, from council meetings to club lunches, from city court to waterfront checks. Their stories run in all editions Tuesday.

The students undertake a variety of jobs, in sports and women's departments, on the general beats of the city and on the copy desk.

They do a big-time newspaper job for a day: get their facts, write their stories, watch the operations which convert the spoken word into type, see the pages of the paper made up and go to the stereotypers' shop to be made into the plates which go on the presses.

They are always enthusiastic workers on this assignment, not alone because it means a day of freedom from the classroom.

Teachers approve the day of newspaper experience. And the students, some of whom will make journalism their life work, consider their assignments a highlight in adventure.

Readers of The Times will see their stories under by-lines in their Tuesday newspapers.

'CONFERENCE AT HIGHEST LEVEL'

Churchill Calls For Top Talks

Duncan Logger Remanded on Murder Charge

Father of Seven Killed in Fight

(Special to the Times)

DUNCAN—A 37-year-old logger was charged with murder in RCMP Court here today.

Frank Homeniuk of Duncan, accused of killing Eric Lindstrom, 45, was remanded by Magistrate G. A. Tisdale until May 19 for preliminary inquiry.

The charge was laid after Lindstrom died in King's Daughters' Hospital Sunday following an operation for head injuries suffered on downtown Station Street at midnight Saturday.

The victim is the father of seven children.

Police said Homeniuk had driven to where Lindstrom was standing on the sidewalk, left his car, and struck Lindstrom one blow. Lindstrom apparently injured his head when he fell on the cement walk, and died several hours after an operation by Dr. C. H. Beevor-Potts.

Dr. D. B. Roxburgh of Victoria was scheduled to make a post-mortem examination today. His findings will determine the date for an inquest, RCMP said.

Homeniuk will be represented by David Williams, Duncan lawyer.

Bus Drivers May Reduce Pay Demand

B.C. Electric bus drivers and maintenance men may reduce their wage demands from 23 cents to 10 cents per hour in an effort to reach a settlement with the company.

It is understood the executive of the Street Railwaymen's Union, bargaining agent for the 2,800 members in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster, is "considering" the reduced demand.

Negotiations will continue Wednesday when the union executive will meet with A. E. Grauer, company president.

Union membership last week voted 80 per cent in favor of rejecting a conciliation board majority recommendation to pay an additional six cents per hour, plus fringe benefits worth approximately one cent.

The company accepted the award.

Original demand of the union was for a 23-cent wage increase, plus benefits that would cost the company from 23 to 25 cents.

Present pay of bus drivers is $1.51 per hour.

IWA Plans New Strategy in Coast Wage Negotiations

PORTLAND, Ore. (CP)—Strategy in deadlocked negotiations with operators was planned by CIO woodworkers from the United States and British Columbia at a meeting here Sunday.

A. F. Hartung union president said refusal of employers to make offers of contract improvements made the step necessary. He said it is the first time in the history of the 17-year-old union that the B.C. district has been brought directly into coastal negotiations.

Given Holiday

Prime Minister Churchill told the Commons today that Foreign Minister Anthony Eden, recovering from two gall bladder operations, will be away from his desk "for several months." Churchill, who took over the foreign affairs portfolio when Eden went into hospital early in April, said that "only if I find the burden more than I can bear shall I ask for relief."

Shah's Own Estates Won By Mossadegh

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — A royal decree announced today the transfer of the shah's privately-held estates to the government of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh. This is another victory for Mossadegh in his campaign to bring the royal court under complete government domination.

The decree was the first substantial result of the "accord" established between Sah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi and the Mossadegh regime after clashes in March.

The decree recommended that the government in taking over ownership of the royal lands should rent plots to peasants on a 99-year lease.

Reds' PW Proposal Wins Prime Minister's Support

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today he is in favor of a high-level conference of the world's leading powers in the immediate future.

Churchill said such a parley should not be hampered by any long agenda but be carried out in an atmosphere of informality and privacy and even seclusion.

Churchill did not say specifically whether he thought Premier Malenkov, President Eisenhower and he should get together. He said simply he believes a "conference at the highest level of the leading powers" ought to be held without delay.

The prime minister reviewed what he called the "change in attitude and, we all hope, mood," that has taken place in Russia and the Kremlin itself since Stalin's death.

He appealed for caution in "doing or saying" anything that might give the Soviet leaders ground for suspicion.

"It would be a mistake to assume that nothing could be settled unless or until everything is settled."

Basis Seen for Armistice Pact

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill said today that there is no reason why the new Communist proposal for disposing of anti-Red prisoners in Korea should not provide the basis for an armistice agreement if it is sincere.

"The question of the conditions governing an exchange of prisoners has really been reduced to terms which no longer involve any difference of principle," Churchill said in opening a two-day full-dress House of Commons debate on foreign affairs.

"All that remains now is method and procedure . . . .

"There is no reason known to me at present to assume that it (the Communist plan) may not form the basis of an agreement, provided always that it is put forward by the Communists in a spirit of sincerity."

In a sweeping review of foreign affairs Churchill said:

1—The situation in Indo-China seems less serious than it was feared. "In my opinion the sudden advance of elements of the Vietminh forces toward the Siamese frontier should not lead us to conclude that it is a Soviet-inspired move inconsistent with the new attitude of the Soviet government."

2—Premier Gen. Mohammed Naguib of Egypt, in demanding that Britain evacuate the Suez canal zone unconditionally, may be in the position often encountered by dictators—of being dictated to by others. "It unfortunately was necessary for General Naguib to obtain as much popularity as possible by the well-known process of taking it out on the British."

It is almost obvious, Churchill said, that there could be an agreement on a truce in Korea "almost instantly" when the Communists are ready.

Patience, Understanding Required

The new Communist prisoner proposal "requires patience and sympathetic understanding," he said.

Churchill said he doubts whether Korea can be unified at this time and he said that Britain will settle for an armistice.

It is a wonder, he said, that the dispute over the disposition of prisoners has been kept alive so long.

"Our immediate aim is, of course, the conclusion of a truce in Korea," Churchill said.

"I doubt very much whether there could be any agreement at the present time on a united Korea."

But time might be a healing factor, he said, if both sides in the Korean war could stop where they are and replace foreign troops with Koreans.

"Therefore, I should be content with even a truce and a cease fire for the moment," Churchill said.

'Truly Creative Theatre'

Victoria Presentations Held Best in History of Canada Drama Contest

By AUDREY STAD. JOHNSON

"The best festival in the entire history of the Dominion Drama Festival," in the words of D. Park Jamieson, Ottawa, honorary vice-president of the DDF, came to a gala conclusion Sunday with the traditional awards luncheon at the Empress Hotel.

Hundreds attended, including governors, committee members, casts and crews of all participating groups, to witness Governor General Vincent Massey present major trophies.

La Jeune Scene of Montreal, whose presentation of the original Canadian play, "Zone," was seen Saturday night, took the coveted Calvert Trophy and the cash prize of $1,000.

Youthful Robert Rivard, director of the play, had his hands full for he received not only approximately two-and-half feet of hand-carved statuette, signifying best production in the festival, but also the Henry Osborne Challenge Trophy, indicating that he himself had been named best actor for his playing of "Passe-Partout" in the play.

A total of four awards was piled up by this group, as the author, Marcel Dube, was presented with the festival committee prize of $100 for the best Canadian play and the Sir Barry Jackson Challenge Trophy for the best presentation of a Canadian play.

In announcing the award on Saturday night, Piere Lefevre commented on his reasons for arriving at the decision, saying:

"This was truly creative theatre—the thing we must earnestly seek if there is to be a national theatre in Canada."

Robert Rivard is a slight shy, young man who looks serious behind horn-rimmed glasses and admits conservatively to being a radio and TV actor in Montreal and to having won the best actor trophy in last year's regional festival.

"We do a few stage plays each year," he tells you and adds—how familiar a comment on the Canadian theatre scene—"we are limited because there are so few halls available for staging plays!"

Award Spurs Author to New Effort

Marcel Dube is a curly-haired young man, who, spurred on by the encouragement he has had at this festival intends to contiue writing plays. A one-act play "On the Other Side of the Wall" drew commendation at the 1952 festival.

The Nella Jefferis Challenge Trophy came as a thrilling birthday present for Andree Cunningham, named best actress in the festival for her interpretation of "Constance" in "The Madwoman of Chaillot."

Miss Cunningham celebrating her natal day yesterday, refused to tell her age, but admitted she had been acting since childhood. Her first part was the lead in a school play, "The Little Princess." She also has a degree in music but works in a life insurance office. This is her third Dominion festival in a row. Last year she played the lead in the winning play, "The Enchanted" by Jean Girardoux.

Another multiple winner was Toronto University Alumnae Dramatic Club, whose presentation of "The Family Reunion," took the Festival Plaque for best presentation in English, exclusive of the winning play, the Martha Allen Challenge Trophy for best visual presentation, and whose director, Herbert Whittaker, won Le Trophee de Merites Louis Jouvet.

"Saturday Night" plaques for best supporting male and female roles went to Bruce Swerdferger, "Ragpicker" in "The Madwoman," and Ruth Addleman as "Irma" in the same play.

"Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" was awarded the plaque for the best play in French, exclusive of the winning play.

Presentations were made to Pierre Lefevre, the popular adjudicator.

Commenting on the Players' Club Alumni of the University of British Columbia entry, "Volpone," Saturday afternoon, Mr. Lefevre described it as the best spoken performance of the week.

"It was a pleasure to hear so clearly," he said.

The group had a feeling for Elizabethan drama, but missed the Jonsonian idiom, he felt. They had not caught the deep style and cynical turn of mind that is reflected in all Ben Jonson's works.

High Praise for UBC's Entry

"This was one of the best attempts at an integrated presentation, so far as costumes and set were concerned," Mr. Lefevre stated, adding that it was full of dynamic energy, color and zest, but that a superficial histrionic brilliance took over and the dramatic scenes became somewhat flimsy. He commended Philip Keatley's performance as "Mosca" for its great style.

Mr. Lefevre's final adjudication, Saturday night was highlighted by the remark: "There seems to be some worry prevalent in Canada about the future of theatre. After seeing this week's plays, it becomes obvious that this worry is quite unnecessary!"

He went on to say that performance and choice had been exciting, rich and stimulating. "There has not been a single shoddy play nor a poor or in the worst sense, amateur performance!"

He described the winning entry, "Zone," done in the French language, as a play which brought its own style and world onto the stage and achieved its effect by very economical means. He pointed out that two areas of different size had been used for the two scenes, saying that this was the sign of a careful director.

"Here are a bunch of actors who know what they are doing," he commented. Most parts were excellently taken, he felt, and described the pace as swift, electric.

In melodramatic situations they avoided melodrama; the third degree scene in the police station was treated in a subjective way, not American movie style, Mr. Lefevre said.

There was poetic strength throughout, partly because the casting was so very well done. The acting showed great flexibility; indeed, it seemed not to be acted so much as to be happening, the adjudicator felt.

While Mr. Lefevre was reaching his conclusions, students of St. Joseph's University, New Brunswick, whiled away the tense moments by coming on stage to sing a group of choral numbers.

Former Mexican President Returns From Trip to Russia

PARIS (UP)—Former Mexican President Miguel Aleman, back from a mysterious trip behind the Iron Curtain, said today he visited Poland, Czechoslovakia and Austria. He said he did not go to Moscow, as had been reported, but would like to before he goes home.

Aleman was reticent about the discussions he held with officials behind the Iron Curtain. He said his trip was private and that he made only courtesy calls on officials. He said he wants to visit as many European countries as possible.

HEARING-AID OF THE WEEK

By B. S. H. TYE

PROGRESS

In 1938, B. S. H. Tye, a graduate teacher of lip-reading, opened the Victoria Hearing-Aid Co. in this city.

At that time very few people with hearing-aids were to be seen in public. Today hearing-aids are seen almost everywhere. In 1938 learning to use an instrument was quite an undertaking as the sets were carbon type and seemed to amplify excessively the unwanted sounds. Then came vacuum-tube hearing-aids which are far more clear and natural than the carbon.

The year 1953 has seen the All-Transistor models come on the market, which have no tubes and use only one tiny self-contained battery and can be operated by the average case for about two dollars per year.

If you have a hearing problem you are invited to get in touch with Mr. Tye at the Victoria Hearing-Aid Co., 326 Yarrow Buldg., 625 Fort St., and take advantage of his experience in fitting hearing-aids. He wears one himself, and has done so for twenty-four years.

Toronto Boys Believed Dead

Authorities today held out little hope that three young Toronto brothers, who vanished May 1 while on their way to buy some candy, are still alive, despite an offer of $500 reward posted by the City of Toronto. A nation-wide search that included a check of all boxcars between Halifax and Vancouver has failed to provide a clue to the youngsters' whereabouts or what happened to them. Missing are Howard Quigley, seven (left), Paul, five (inset, as sketched by artist), and Henry, 10. (CP Photo.)

St. Laurent's Hint of August Election Sparks Commons Debate

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA — Parliament was plodding wearily towards prorogation this week, the end of the final session before the general election, held up by a sudden outburst of oratory which was probably prompted by Prime Minister St. Laurent's hint that Canadians would vote in August.

The House of Commons sat all day Saturday in a last-minute drive to clear away last remaining items of business, but members held out little hope for winding up all the work until Tuesday or Wednesday at the latest.

Progrogation might have been achieved before Saturday had it not been for a sudden flare-up of debate. A day-long discussion during the defense production estimates broke out on the report to the commons of the defense expenditures committee.

It was significant that the debate developed unexpectedly the day after Prime Minister St. Laurent had thrown out a strong hint that he intended to call the general election in mid-August. While he did not pinpoint the date for the voting the general concensus of opinion is that it will be Aug. 10 as already forecast in the Victoria Times.

Members picking up the scent of an election campaign in the offing were encouraged to talk where otherwise they might have remained silent.

The prime minister returned to Ottawa Saturday noon from Washington. He is scheduled to leave for the Coronation this week.

Curfew Follows African Riot

Governor Prohibits Carrying Of Arms on the Gold Coast

ACCRA, Gold Coast (AP)—Sir Charles Arden-Clarke, governor of the Gold Coast, has proclaimed a dusk-to-dawn curfew in Elmina, 134 miles west of here, where Maj. Edgar Brookes, 35, a police superintendent, and two African policemen were shot and killed Saturday.

ELECTED PRESIDENT of the B.C. Dental Association at closing sessions of the association's annual convention Saturday in Vancouver was Dr. Harold Turner, of Victoria. Dr. N. J. T. Dohan, also of Victoria, was elected secretary, and Dr. R. L. Horne will represent the city on the association board of directors. New treasurer is Dr. D. L. Sutherland, Vancouver.

Twelve Africans are believed to have been killed in the rioting that followed.

Arden-Clarke has prohibited the carrying of arms in the area and has called on the people to surrender all their arms by next Friday.

Both the governor and the Gold Coast prime minister, Kwame Nkrumah, attended the funeral of Brookes, which was held Sunday. The funeral of the two African policemen was also held.

The trouble first started Friday night when a big crowd gathered to protest a new local tax. The police dispressed it with tear gas.

Saturday morning another crowd began to move in the direction of the colony's police reserve. Brookes appealed to the crowd to disperse. A shot rang out and he fell dead. Then the rioting and further shooting started.

AIR BLITZ

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters)—British light planes Sunday bombed and strafed a police station seized by anti-white Mau Mau raiders Friday.

The gang had dug in at the Ihuririo station in the South Nyeri reserve, but fled before the air blitz, the government said.

The raid highlighted continued actions during the week-end in the terrorist-ridden colony.

At Nakuru, a small Mau Mau gang pretending they were policemen swept into a white farm. Savagely swinging pangas, they slashed a Maragoli tribesman's wife and her child to death.

Another Mau Mau gang attacked a home guard camp set up by pro-British chief Eliud. They killed five guardsmen, wounded three and burned down all huts in the area.

Police Probe Death Of Crewman on Vancouver Tugboat

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Police questioned crewmen of the Vancouver-based tug "Lapointe" today after the body of a crewman was discovered in his bunk.

Police said it was aparent the crewman had been beaten up.

The victim was identified as Silvio Sanata, 40, of Vancouver.

He was found in his bunk by a fellow crewman, when he failed to show up for his turn at watch. The vessel was traveling from Bellingham to Vancouver at the time.

Police believed the tug was tied up in Bellingham most of Saturday and a fight developed after the crew had been drinking.

HOLIDAY MAY 18 MARKS TWO OCCASIONS

Monday, May 18, will serve as a dual holiday this year.

The day will be observed as Victoria Day (formerly marked on May 24) and as the Queen's Birthday (actual date of which is April 21).

All provincial government offices will close that day except the provincial museum which will be open to the public from 9 to 5.

The next holiday will be Tuesday, June 2, Coronation Day, and the next after that, Wednesday, July 1, Dominion Day.

Stiff Breeze Speeds Yachts On Sail-Past

If opening-day weather is any indication, Royal Victoria Yacht Club members won't need to whistle up the wind during the 1953 sailing season.

A spanking breeze whipped spindrift from the sparkling, choppy waters of Cadboro Bay Saturday afternoon as more than 50 trim and gleaming yachts sailed line-astern past the cruiser Marnez, where Commodore J. F. Mercer took the salute. The wind whipped the gay pendants and signal flags stiff out from the rigging of the sailing craft and power boats.

The motorcraft led the sail-past this year, headed by Staff Captain F. W. Nicholls. Fleet Captain Dick Alexander, in his brother's sloop Spindrift, led the sailing and auxiliary fleet past the flagship.

The RCN Sailing Association's fleet of six tiny sailorette class sloops found dirty weather as they sailed from Esquimalt Harbor to Cadboro Bay in time for the ceremonies, but turned up in trim shape.

Tories Select Spinks to Run In Comox Race

COURTENAY—Nugent Watson Spinks of Courtenay was unanimously nominated to carry the Progressive Conservative banner in the Comox riding at the nomination convention in Elks Hall, Courtenay, Saturday night.

The Conservative nomination brings to four the number to contest the Comox riding. They are W. C. Moore, CCF, C. H. Poole, Social Credit, and Jack Baikie, of Campbell River, Liberal.

A barrister and solicitor in B.C. for 26 years, Mr. Spinks has spent the past 12 years in Courtenay and the previous 12 years in Vancouver. He has been active in Conservative politics in Vancouver and the Comox district for many years, is a past president of Comox-Alberni Federal Conservative Association, and has been a member of the B.C. executive of the association for the past three years.

TREATMENT WAS FAIR

2 Canadian PWs Rest On Arrival at Tacoma

TACOMA, Wash. (CP)—Two Canadian fighting men, prisoners of the Communists until a couple of weeks ago, took a spin through the spring countryside Sunday and breathed the air of freedom.

The soldiers, the only Canadians to gain their freedom under the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners of war in Korea, bunked in at Madigan Army Hospital here following a flight from California.

Anxious to get home—and soon—are Pte. Arthur J. Baker, 31, of Montreal, and L. Cpl. Paul Dugal, 20, of Quebec City.

The soldiers, after a talk to reporters limited to 10 minutes, went to hospital Saturday to get some badly-needed rest.

Sunday, they took it easy again. The doctor in their ward of the 1,200-bed hospital took them on a two and one-half hours sightseeing drive before they turned in.

Baker and Dugal were the soldiers of the Royal 22nd Regiment who compiled a list of their fellow prisoners on cigarette papers to smuggle the names past their Communist captors.

When they arrived here they were greeted by Roscoe O. McIntosh who handed the soldiers a single pack of cigarettes apiece—symbolic of his debt.

Cpl. Dugal told reporters a bit about the prison-camp stay.

"Our treatment by the Chinese was fair," he said, "but the food wasn't too good. It was mostly rice. We'd eat twice a day in winter, three times in summer.

Pte. Baker told of compulsory lectures on communism, saying: "They told us how the 'big shot' capitalists were exploiting the poor people. We didn't fall for it at all."

Cpl. Dugal, leaning on a cane presented to him in Japan, indicated he still has some scores to settle in Korea. "If I got the chance," he said, "I'd go back and fight again."

9 Die, 100 Injured In Midwest Tornado

Swirling Black Funnels Cut Million-Dollar Damage Swaths Across Five American States

MINNEAPOLIS (AP—Swirling black tornado funnels blasted a path of destruction across parts of five midwest states and Arkansas during the week-end, leaving nine persons dead, more than 100 injured and widespread property damage.

Areas hit were southern Minnesota, western Wisconsin, southeastern Nebraska, north central Iowa, west central Arkansas and south eastern Kansas.

Property damage is expected to total several million dollars.

Six of the Minnesota victims died when the tarpaper and clapboard house in which a migrant worker and his family were quartered on a truck farm near Hollandale was destroyed.

Bodies of the six were hurled 75 feet on to a road Sunday night when the funnel hit the flimsy structure that had housed prisoners of war during the Second World War. Neighbors said the house appeared to "explode from within."

CRUSHED TO DEATH

The other Minnesota victims were Otto Jeche, about 60, crushed to death when his barn caved in on his farm near Wykoff and the two-year-old daughter of Mrs. Dorothy MacDonald, 29, of rural Rochester, Minn.

The youngster was killed and her mother and Franklin Steele, 23, Rochester, were critically hurt when Steele's car was lifted off the road and tossed into a creek.

The Wisconsin victim was fatally injured when a barn was blown down. Several others were reported injured when high winds not definitely identified as tornadoes hit the western part of Wisconsin.

Another Joint Effort

THE WITHDRAWAL OF COMmunist forces in Laos was not swift enough nor complete enough to avoid what the Reds must be loath to see happen: a strengthening of western resistance in the face of aggression.

The invasion of the French Indo-Chinese member state was the direct cause of one of the declarations arising from last week's important talks between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister St. Laurent. The two leaders saw the new aggression as a more revealing indication of real purposes than were the recent peaceful words of the Soviet regime. They therefore concluded that "acts, not words, would be the proof of Communist intentions."

On that basis, they urged that "the free nations could not afford to diminish their efforts toward the achievement of united strength and ability to meet aggression."

That could mean more military preparations, and no doubt there will be repercussions in that department. But it can, and will, also mean closer attention to the economic strength of the west. That strength, as the Canadian Prime Minister sees it, must lie in better trade relations between the United States and its allies.

To improve those relations, in so far as Canada-U.S. trade is concerned, a most promising step has been taken. A proposal is being considered to set up a joint board to which will be referred all problems concerning restrictions on trade across the 49th parallel.

The history of such joint boards between the two countries is a happy one. The mutual defense board has functioned well since its inauguration. The Joint International Commission, to regulate problems of waterways affecting both countries, has had marked success. So that a board to act in much the same way in the field of commerce—investigating problems and reporting to the governments involved—should greatly ease the path of mutual trade.

There were other valuable results of the Washington talks. Mr. St. Laurent took occasion to raise the topic of the St. Lawrence Seaway Plan, long delayed by the United States Congress' reluctance to act. He was assured of President Eisenhower's personal support in speeding the power phase of the project. There was likewise agreement on the question of northern defense, including the radar screen that helps to cover the Arctic wastes and on the need for "vigorous support" for NATO.

The full results of the talks, of course, are a matter for the future. The official declarations, although frank, are not likely to have told the whole story of the unusually long conversation between the two heads of state. Further disclosures may be looked for in Parliament and Congress, concrete evidence of the achievements to be realized from the spirit of co-operation that has been a major asset of the two neighboring nations.

What Is the Alternative?

IN HIS ANNOUNCEMENT OF federal plans to study narcotics addiction in British Columbia, Health Minister Paul Martin implies a rejection of the suggestion that controlled doses be given under supervision to present drug victims.

His explanation of findings by investigators of his department runs contrary to views expressed by groups in this province. The latter have suggested the prescription system to control distribution of narcotics and to eliminate as far as possible the evils of the existing black market. Mr. Martin is apparently not satisfied with the conclusions of the B.C. study groups.

Whether his opinion will be revised by the studies now planned among addicts must await the outcome of those studies. But whatever happens some constructive effort must be taken on behalf of the people now addicted and those who may be recruited to their ranks in the future.

The Vancouver Daily Province presented the challenge clearly in its editorial columns last week. That newspaper reprinted sections from a letter written by an addict to the sentencing magistrate. It told the story of earlier convictions and sentences to the penetentiary, his release and return to narcotics and his re-arrest and conviction.

"The RCMP spends millions of dollars every year to send us back to jail again and again," the addict wrote, "but not one penny will they spend to try to help us."

In their corrective approach to narcoticism so far, the authorities have been bailing a badly leaking boat with a thimble. That approach is hopeless.

If Mr. Martin is convinced that the prescription proposal is no answer to the problem—and he may engage in well-informed argument on that point—surely it is essential that some alternative be offered to it.

Let this point be clear: many addicts were criminals before they became addicts, but others have been forced into crime to satisfy the financial demands of their addiction. Unless some better method of handling their problem than merely jailing them is found, there can be little hope of reformation for this class of people—and the addiction totals are of frightening proportions in this province.

The Vanished Hand

FRANCE'S AMBASSADOR TO Britain, Rene Massigli, has complained that diplomacy had been replaced by "loud-speaker negotiation" that "diplomacy is no longer secret and is perhaps no longer diplomacy." He sees no evidence to suggest the world has gained anything by the change.

This is no frivolous protest against waning elegance in international relations. It is part of the same argument that has been raised on various occasions by Walter Lippmann and is a matter which merits consideration.

There may be few tears shed over the inclination to reduce "secrecy" in relations between nations. The "open covenant openly arrived at" has much to commend it in a world in which more and more people are demanding and receiving fuller information from their chancellories. The system has obvious limitations while negotiations are proceeding, but a people anxious to know what their country is doing deserve consideration.

It is another matter again when diplomacy becomes "loud speaker negotiation," particularly when it is not—as is frequently the case—negotiation.

In recent years matters which used to be handled by diplomacy have been left in hands anything but diplomatic. Efforts to reconcile differences by the compromise solution of problems have yielded to a more obvious big stick. Frequently the debate becomes little more than the child's challenge to another child: "My daddy can lick your daddy." Reconciliation becomes all the more difficult as insult and thinly veiled threat are brought into play.

There was a time when British diplomacy prided itself on the ability to leave an opponent unconscious of the fact he had been bettered in an arrangement. Scoring a diplomatic victory which was patently a victory and so recognized by the loser was a diplomatic sin.

No one wishes a return to the cloak and dagger techniques of an earlier age, but many will agree with the position taken by Rene Massigli. There is a definite place for diplomacy in the world today—probably a greater place than ever before, but its accomplished practitioners are too few or are being pushed off the international stage.

Let us have some of the frankness of the shirt-sleeves approach, but let us keep the calked-boots attack a little further in the background.

BCHIS Is Compulsory

PREMIER BENNETT, ADMITtedly under pressure, has finally stated in Revelstoke that hospital insurance is compulsory in British Columbia.

That admission will be welcomed by all citizens who can appreciate the danger inherent in the scheme if it were to be administered on a voluntary basis. Voluntary hospital insurance, effective as it was to many groups under the Blue Cross and certain other schemes, would not meet the requirements of B.C. hospitals. Nor would it provide over-all protection for virtually the entire population.

It should be understood that provision is made for the hospitalization of people who have not the means to pay either premiums or hospital costs. That is a welfare issue which all fair-minded citizens will approve.

For the rest, the system operates as it operated before Health Minister Martin made his unusual announcement of the voluntary nature of the plan last year. The air has been cleared by Mr. Bennett's statement. That is one of the few clear pronouncements to come out of the campaign tour the premier is making in British Columbia. On this point at least the public should now know where it stands.

LOOSE ENDS

Splendor, Sloth and Stupor

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

CANNES—This is written by candlelight, in a shattering electrical storm, on the French Riviera, which must be one of the most beautiful and hateful areas in the world.

Hutchison

Though the storm, with its neon signatures of lighting across the Mediterranean, has extinguished the electric lights in this hotel, I find myself living in luxury positively sinful. After a week of this treatment an ordinary Canadian would be no more use for anything.

Most of the scum of Europe, I would judge, has oozed down to the Mediterranean coast and lies along some 50 miles of golden beach.

Several expensive automobiles a minute sweep by the hotel along the narrow, curving road on the outskirts of Cannes. They contain sleek men and bejeweled women of the same strain which produced the French revolution.

THE long beach at Cannes is littered with tanned human flesh usually clothed in a couple of handkerchiefs, and the innumerable yachts at anchor could hardly be purchased, I imagine, by the annual appropriations of the Canadian parliament.

Cannes, with its glittering restaurants and opulent riff-raff is surely the largest parasite growth and ultimate horror of the continent.

Man made Cannes and all the minor parasites strung like cheap jewelry along the sea shore.

Nature made a coast of staggering beauty. Out of the emerald Mediterranean rise high mountains of pine, and out of the mountains cliffs and chimneys of polished bronze. Yellow broom and a hundred kinds of wild flowers sprawl over the cliffs and man has added to them perpendicular gardens of palms, purple wisteria, mimosa, oranges and lemons, until the clean, antiseptic smell of the pines, blowing down from the mountains, is mixed with the voluptuous perfumes of a boudoir.

This is Ulysses' lotusland and the song of the sirens rises from every rock.

AS a matter of fact, a siren of that sort occupies the terrace next to ours, straight above the white curl of the breakers. Alas, she does not sing. She does not even speak. She lies on a deck chair, fondling a tiny dachshund.

It is impossible to see her face clearly because she covers most of it with a large pair of dark glasses but we have decided, from her honey-colored hair and her German dog that she is a broken-down movie star from Berlin, ekeing out her last money in the sun. Very likely she is a respectable married lady from Paris or Kansas City but we prefer not to know the truth which would spoil our legend.

There is little to do here but construct legends about the other visitors, gaze at the bronze cliffs or idle through a two-hour lunch on the terrace. No one does anything more energetic than that, except the real people of the Riviera, who are among the hardest-working in France. They must work hard to keep the riff-raff amused.

THERE are some 50,000 permanent residents in Cannes, I was told by a waiter, who said he had learned his excellent English in the local schools. At the height of the "season," commencing in mid-June, the visitors number about 300,000.

In the winter the shore is deserted by everyone except the old and the rich. They come, when things are quiet, to doze in the sun. The big crowds arrive in the summer because, as the saturnine waiter explained, "it is, as you understand, the fashion for the ladies to expose the skin to the sun to make it brown and—how you say it?—to wash themselves in the sea, but not often."

A few were washing themselves in the sea today but not many for even the Mediterranean has yet to warm up. Its temperature, carefully measured by the manager of our hotel every morning, is now 40 degrees. So the ladies are merely tanning themselves on the sand in a display usually confined to the dissecting rooms of a medical college.

THE waiter, a man of evident intelligence and much skepticism, said the Riviera was not what it used to be. For one thing, not many English could come here with the £40 allowed them for foreign travel.

For another, France as a whole was in a sorry state. Why? He picked up a small box of matches and remarked that they cost 20 francs. Last year the price was 15. Next year, no doubt, it would be 30. The money was constantly "reducing itself." But what could you expect, with some 15 political parties and three or four governments every year?

The waiter sighed and asked me if he could get a job in Canada—but only for six months or so for he could never leave the Riviera and the winter sun.

My automobile having developed alarming symptoms, I took it into a large garage and a mechanic explained the trouble in French, with vivid gestures. Then, hearing my speech, he took me for an American and broke out into the Cockney accents of London.

THAT Londoner had come to Cannes 27 years ago as a chauffeur for a rich Englishman and could never bear to return to the mists of England. His son, he said, was a French citizen about to enter the French army. The whole family, having visited England, had decided that they would live forever beside the Mediterranean. "It gets 'old of you," said he, "if you know wot I mean."

Yes, it must get hold of you like a drug, and the addiction, I dare say, is incurable. After 24 hours of seduction all my remaining will-power is draining out fast, I demand a diet which no honest Canadian should eat and I found myself cleaning off my windshield with wine because it was too much effort to look for water.

Only the lightning which wriggles across the Mediterranean and the thunder which shakes this hotel down to the sea rocks reminds one that man is a small blot on this coast of splendor, sloth and gilded stupor.

As Our Readers See It

WHAT IS TO COME

Pertinent to the political field in B.C. (the last provincial election being a case in point) every "disturbance," however widely its effect may be felt, eventually awards a new kind of balance.

It is usually the vanquished who most readily perceive the real reasons for their defeat. This very flexibility of perception can be a danger in that there develops an inclination to see both sides of the question, which in the political sense may produce a debilitating effect upon intensity, audacity and the will to win.

It is therefore heartening to hear the universal and bold denunciation of those utterances made by Socred speakers who are introducing their appeal through "fear"—an appeal unworthy of a Canadian!

There exists in B.C. today a tremendous courage and a surging impulse towards the crystalization of gains made in social progress and industrial expansion in the past few years.

Before us is the clear, straight vote, let us ponder deeply and honestly upon what has been achieved and what is to come.

JUST A TICK

At this time of the year, ticks are very prevalent in wooded areas. These miniature black, crablike pests can cause much distress if one does not know how to deal with them.

It is useless to try to pull them out with tweezers with their fish-hook hold. They must be made to back out. The tick breathes through its pores. Apply butter, lard, or any greasy substance to completely cover its body, and it will come out. Apply iodine.

The writer several times has used the end of a lighted cigarette, held very close to the body with desired effects. Coal oil, gas or turps may also be used if nothing else is available. Several children of late have had recourse to the hospital, to have them cut out, which prompts this information.

'NO GOOD DUCKING'

Whether they like it or not, Social Credit candidates will have to state where they stand in regard to the economic theories of the party.

However adroitly they twist and dodge, the voters will demand an answer. It is no good ducking by stating that it is a federal and not a provincial matter. The public is well aware of this fact now, and a large number of them are also aware that the Socreds put one over on them last election by deliberately avoiding this hot potato—but not again.

One can almost feel sorry for recent climbers on the back of Social Credit, who have to face questions on this subject. If they perjure themselves by saying that they are believers in the monetary theories, the public will not elect them, and, if they say they are not in favor, they will be excommunicated by the genuine Socreds.

The Lion in Daniel's Den

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

TALKING to me about queer or appropriate surnames, a friend of mine told me that when she was a little girl in Cayuga (Ont.) the local druggist was Mr. Quinsey. And the proprietor of the "ice cream parlor" was Mr. Anguish. The picture of little kids eating themselves sick, whimpering while Mr. Anguish pressed more ice cream on them, is very pleasing. In the Old Brompton Road in South Kensington our local chemist was a Scot called Mr. Plaister, which is nice. I hear poor old Plaister got bombed out along with his shop. In West Vancouver there is, or was till very lately, a most appealing shoe shop owned by Mr. Tite. His sign said simply TITE SHOES. Or so my spies told me. Lovely.

Brock

MY friend lived in Pincher Creek, as well as in Cayuga, and there she met an old lady whose father had named his children after the battles in the Crimea, "where he had borne a long-bow or something." As his surname was Higginbotham, such names as Alma Balaclava and Sebastopol Inkerman went very well. Or so he thought, and let not me be the one to deny it.

BARGAINS

THE Missus was getting me to order her some "bargains" in the way of seeds and bulbs. Some of the prices didn't seem any too low to me, and I had a dull suspicion we were dealing with a mighty fancy firm. Flicking through the catalogue, I came across a sort of ketchup with a few herbs in it which I could buy at 4 oz. for a dollar! And for 50 cents I can buy 1½ oz. of thyme! (At that German place I told you about, in New York, you can get a whole pound of thyme for 80 cents. Not that you should buy herbs in quantity.) Even allowing for the present snob-price of herbs, I think we have evidence that the seeds and bulbs may also have fancy prices. While posting my wife's order I shall contrive to lose the letter. I know a boy along the street who never posts letters he finds. I shall drop the thing in his garden. He'll be fascinated. But he won't find any order in it for herb ketchup at $4.00 a U.S. pint.

THE IGNORAMUS

A SMALL friend of mine came home from Grade IV to complain that there is a boy in her class who is actually so stupid, he won't believe that you spell pneumonia with a C. In fact, he just laughs. This little girl takes a vivid interest in spelling. The very cover of her spelling book has a charm of its own. It says: "Seppelling."

RIGHT UP HIS ALLEY

AT THIS same school there is a small German boy who can (as yet) speak almost no word of English. I overheard an eight-year-old boy addressing him with the most alarming gurgling noises, accompanied by frightful grimaces and gestures, and his body all crouched over as if to begin a racing dive. "Gurrrrrrrd morrrrrrrrning, Heinrrrrrrrich, gurgle, gurgle, howrrrrrr arrrrrrr you-rrrrrr gurgle today rrrrrrrrrr?" I asked what this mockery was, and he said "I'm speaking German to Heinrich so he will understand me."

LIVING IN A DREAM WORLD OF MY OWN

I EVEN dream about that particular school. Most people's dreams are a little hell of boredom to other people. Though I liked a recent one of Bernard Darwin's . . . he dreamt he had a desk about 400 yards long, along the side of an immense practice fairway, so that he could work and play golf at the same time. (Guilt?) Dull though it is, however, I must tell you about my school dream, for it seems to be a warning or a symbol or something. In this dream, I was at a school picnic. I had prudently brought some bottled beer along. But knowing the prejudices of the police and the teachers against beer in the open air, I had soaked the labels off the bottles, and I hoped that any observer would immediately conclude I was drinking pop.

A YOUNG friend of mine was carrying several of the bottles for me, and a teacher stopped him and said "Here, what's that you've got, my lad? Beer?" The lad was confused and instead of saying "Fruity Fuzz, sir," he shouted "This, sir? This is Mr. Brock's typewriter."

A likely story! We got into frightful trouble at once. But what puzzles me is this: quite apart from its obvious and furtive guilt, does my subconscious really think beer is necessary in my work, and is indeed a kind of writing machine for me? Wine for the poet and beer for the hack?

PRIVATE EAR

IF YOUR budgerigar happens to be a good talker, you should use some imagination in deciding which of your friends is to look after him while you are out of town. It should be a friend whose grammar is beyond criticism, and who employs no oaths or curses you'd not want a parakeet to acquire. And his private life should be interesting enough for the bird to give you some hints about it.

A neighbor of mine kindly looked after my bird Chips for two days recently. But Chips had only two things to report on his return. One was: "You know, that bird's really saying something!" The other was larger, and pretty good for a sentence he'd heard only once: "Shut up, for Pete's sake, don't make a noise, she doesn't know we're in, let's hide in the bedroom." Chips did come home with a third remark, but it could have been something he picked up at home in a distorted way: "Oh, ho, ho, that's a very good joke, I can't figure it."

A Drastic Setback

The return of a Social Credit government in B.C. would be a drastic set-back to the province. Many people have been led to believe the SC government in Alberta have, during the past year, been successful. The truth is, Alberta is deeply in debt and getting in more deeply each year.

The municipal government debt has doubled during the last ten years and now stands at $117,000,000. The taxes on all properties in Alberta are extremely high, and the side roads very badly neglected.

The oil boom in Alberta has provided a lot of employment, but the government has allowed billions to go to corporations in the U.S.A., which would have stayed in the province under a good government and provided lower taxes and social measures for the people.

The question is asked, why has the Social Credit government repeatedly been voted back into power? The answer is most working folks don't worry much as long as they have a job and are getting by.

The election of a SC government in B.C. will mean extremely high taxes, and social security will be a thing of the past.

CONSOLATION

The sea is the consolation of our day, as it has been the consolation of the centuries. It is the companion and the receiver of men. It has moods for them to fill the storehouse of the mind, perils for trial, or even for an ending, and calms for the good emblem of death. There, on the sea, is a man nearest to his own making, and in communion with that from which he came, and to which he shall return. For the wise men of very long ago have said, and it is true, that out of the salt water all things came. The sea is the matrix of creation, and we have the memory of it in our blood.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

'Mine Eyes Have Seen . . .'

THE schools' track and field season opens this week and the line Paul Gallico lifted from the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" for his opening chapter heading in "Farewell to Sport," keeps running through my mind—"Mine eyes have seen the glory . . ."

Stott

Gallico was talking about the shining courage and clean, fresh edge of competition you sometimes find in athletics. You see examples of it in school meets, or any other track and field meet, for that matter.

Here is amateurism as it exists in few places today. The youngsters are in there running for the sake of the race and largely for the intangibles that go with it. The material prize, at best, is a cup somebody will have to keep polished and dusted for the year. It won't be of any practical use, but the satisfactions that go with it make the cup runneth over.

The spectators will sense that as they watch the athletes racing down the stretch, feeling it above the minor hysteria of a yelling crowd, seized with it in the quick silence that comes just after the race while the sound of spikes biting into cinders rises in rhythmic sibilance as the runners trot back.

COLOR OF ITS OWN

There's an atmosphere about a track meet you find nowhere else. There's color in the infield, with competitors warming up, or relaxed in their sweat suits after an event. There's usually a warm sun beating down, some small pungence of liniment, the talk of old-timers recalling past triumphs, and the sharp, clearly defined action of the contests themselves. There's the sudden keying of emotions and the quick lifting of tension as the winner crosses the line.

You may be looking at the young athletes this week, feeling the urge that drives them and thinking ahead to next year when some will be trying for places on Canada's British Empire Games team. And maybe you'll be wondering what their efforts will produce for them.

Even if they don't make the grade, they'll have learned something of self-discipline in the training routines they'll undertake if they are serious.

MORE THAN A UNIFORM

If they qualify, their rewards will be considerably larger. When you talk to men like Archie McKinnon you begin to realize what an athlete acquires with a place on a national team. The Olympic coach will tell you how boys seem to mature in the process, learn self-reliance, and with it develop a team sense that expands to a more deeply-rooted Canadianism. It's the feeling that comes from being in some small way responsible for Canada in their particular event.

Out of the competitions with athletes from other lands they gain a new insight into internationalism. They begin to appreciate the personalities and abilities of the men they compete against. They judge them by the yardstick of sportsmanship and ability and they form independent judgments not colored by propaganda.

They find a gallantry they might not have expected. They see something of the glory Gallico's eyes beheld. They treasure the memory of incidents like the hurdles event in the last London Olympics when Britain's hopes rode on D. O. Finlay and Finlay tripped and fell on the last hurdle, rising from the track to limp in last while thousands cheered him.

It is a fine and glorious thing to win for your country. But even without winning, there's deep virtue in competing, giving the best you have and recognizing the character and ability of opponents.

Archie'll be thinking of that as he helps the different schools in meets this week, enjoying the performances for their sake alone, and seeing something in them a little less apparent than the quick rush of young bodies to the finishing line.

FROM WASHINGTON

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

Security—Financial or Military?

IN the 1930s, a wrong order of priorities destroyed Britain as a great power and all but destroyed Britain as a nation. The British leaders of the period—men of the highest attainments and best possible intentions—genuinely believed their own catch phrase, which excused their long neglect of Britain's defenses:

Joseph

"We must remember that Britain's first line of defense is Britain's economic strength."

Unfortunately, the event proved that a balanced budget would not stop a Panzer division or a Heinkel bomber, as it cannot be counted on today to stop a Soviet TU-4. It is at least highly significant, therefore, that the same order of priorities seems likely to be officially established by the Eisenhower administration.

The debate has been going on for three months. In the somewhat airless chamber of the National Security Council, the President and the key members of his Cabinet have been wrestling continuously and prayerfully with the same problem of priorities on which Britain foundered.

The tentative result—and it must be emphasized that it is only tentative—is a decesion that "economic destruction" is just as much to be feared as national destruction in the more literal sense of the phrase.

This debate has been the real, unseen drama of the Eisenhower administration to date. The issues in dispute were first raised in September, 1949, by the explosion of the Soviet atomic bomb.

National defense and its supporting documents, such as the report on Project Lincoln's investigation of the air defense problem, were waiting for the President when he took office, like so many skeletons in the White House closet. The question was—and is—what to do about these skeletons, which in effect gnashed their ugly jaws and demanded a reversal of the President's campaign promises about the budget and fiscal policy.

The argument about this issue first broke out on the cruiser Helena, with Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey pleading for conservative fiscal policies, and Secretary of State Dulles arguing for a national effort adequate to safeguard the American future. This has been the main division ever since.

Secretary Dulles has been supported by Mutual Security Administrator Harold Stassen and Under Secretary of State Bedell Smith.

According to credible reports, Vice-President Nixon, who is playing a remarkably useful part behind the scenes, also took this side. And the President himself was also much impressed at first by defense needs, and insisted that every cabinet member give the closest study to official reports on this subject.

In the last anlysis, however, any cabinet member usually wins an argument mainly concerning his own department. In this instance Secretary of Defense Wilson, the chief party at interest, strongly sided with Secretary Humphrey. Hence the new doctrine, which is reported to be in process of official formulation by the Security Council, that we must fear "economic destruction" just as much as air-atomic devastation.

Stewart

Problems such as that of air defense were not seriously tackled in the Truman defense budget, huge as this Truman budget was. Hence the President's cuts of the Truman budget do not absolutely preclude these problems being dealt with. Then, too, the wisest men in the administration pardonably argue that they cannot tackle gigantic new problems until they feel themselves in full control of the vast, unfamiliar government machine. Yet the indicated order of priorities is still wrong; for if worst comes to worst, who would not rather be a bankrupt than atom-bombed American or defeated?

CORONATION DRESS REHEARSAL

40,000 Watch Ceremony

LONDON (BUP)—It was a ghost-like rehearsal of the June 2 pageantry, but the crowds came anyway.

Lining the curbs by dawn, some 40,000 persons watched Sunday as Queen Elizabeth's Coronation procession moved out of Buckingham Palace.

One incident marred the rehearsal. A horse pulling the second of the nine Commonwealth prime ministers' carriages bolted, caught his leg in the traces and mounted the curb outside Marlborough House.

A royal artillery groomsman who leaped from the coach attempting to free the horse was hospitalized when his hand was struck by a thrashing hoof. The following coach had to swerve sharply to avoid a collision.

The procession was a miniature of the real thing. The Queen and her family were resting in Scotland and the impressive array of coaches contained servicemen and low-ranking civilians. One soldier took the place of 10 in the march.

Most of the crowd standing in the chilly morning knew they would miss the big show on June 2 and they filled in the gaps with their imagination.

Some camped all night at vantage spots. Mrs. Ellen Buffham, 73, walked four miles with a party of friends and arrived at Buckingham Palace at 4.30 a.m. to watch the procession pass through the gates.

Central attraction was the golden state coach in which the Queen will ride. Its massive carvings, painted panels, red upholstery and its team of eight Windsor grey horses in crimson trappings were bright spots in the grey morning.

The state coach was empty.

One thousand soldiers in khaki, representing all the units which will take part on Coronation Day next month, marched through the blocked off streets, enabling officials to get precise measurements and timings.

Trumpeters shattered the early morning silence with fanfares as the state coach returned to Buckingham Palace at 10 a.m. on the dot.

TONGAY GETS THREATS

Father of Aquatot Forced Into Hiding

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—Russel Tongay's attorney said today that telephoned "threats" and hostile protests may prevent him from getting a fair trial here for the death of his "aquotot" daughter Kathy.

Displays of unfriendliness already have forced the burly ex-coastguardsman and his family into hiding and Attorney Louis M. Jepeway said if they continue he will seek to change the place of Tongay's trial.

Jepeway said there have been "at least 20" anonymous telephone calls threatening to harm Tongay or burn his duplex home.

Authorities said the five-year-old swimimng star died of a blow from a "brutal beating." But Tongay insisted she received the fatal injury in a 33-foot dive.

Many residents here and at Tarpon Springs have followed with intense disapproval the exploits of the Tongay children as expert swimmers and divers since they were hardly old enough to walk.

Tongay, his wife and their surviving child, seven-year-old Bubba, went into nomadic seclusion in their trailer home after holding Methodist rites at a funeral home at Tarpon Springs Saturday.

They were seen Sunday night on a private beach near Hollywood, Fla., 18 miles north of here, by a newsman who recognized Bubba, Kathy's partner in the famous "aquatot" team, as he splashed in the surf.

Asked whether he was afraid to swim or dive anymore the tanned, muscular boy replied with a stout, "no." Bubba said his parents were "all right" after the funeral. He ended the interview by saying: "I got to dig me some sandpiles now."

While the little boy laughed at the waves breaking around his sturdy legs, Tongay, 36, free on $5,000 bail, watched from his yellow trailer parked near the ocean.

Tongay insisted a diving mishap, and not a "brutal beating" as police claimed, caused the blow which brought death last Wednesday night to Kathy, second Tongay child to die under questionable circumstances.

U.S. SERGEANT CHARGED WITH MAIMING SELF

STUTTGART, Germany (UP) —A 21-year-old U.S. army sergeant was accused today of having four fingers chopped off his left hand in an effort to escape duty in Korea.

Sgt. Charles Curry, 21, of Longwood, Mo., is under treatment in an army hospital here.

Authorities said Eduard Woelfel, 23, a German, has admitted he cut off Curry's fingers with an axe. Woelfel asserted he was paid $12 for the job by Curry and was promised $50 more.

Curry originally claimed his fingers were cut off in a barroom brawl, an army spokesman said. He said Curry volunteered for transfer to Korea several months ago "but apparently changed his mind."

Bomb Shelters Studied For New Public Buildings

OTTAWA (BUP) — Bomb shelters may be built into public buildings now under construction or planned for the future, Civil Defence Chief Paul Martin indicated Saturday night.

Martin, who administers the civil defence program through his department of national health and welfare said bomb-shelter construction was being investigated by the public works, defense and transport departments and the National Research Council.

Gordon Churchill (PC-Winnipeg South Centre) suggested public buildings under construction or to be built in the future could include basement shelters for protection of the general public.

Churchill said this would not be very expensive.

"Shelters would be underground and provision would be made whereby the upper floors would not cave in, and would thus provide general shelters," he said.

Martain also disclosed that the federal government's program of stockpiling medical supplies for civil defense will cost about $9,000,000.

Times Paper Carriers Week-End Trip Guests

A group of 26 Times paper carriers, of almost 100 who took part in a recent circulation contest, enjoyed as their prize a two-day trip to Seattle on the week-end as guests of the newspaper.

The trip, top prize in the contest, included travel by chartered aircraft both ways, a two-and-a-half hour tour of the city, and plenty of time for the boys to shop for themselves.

The young carriers, aged from 11 to 16 years, were permitted to visit the pilots in the plane's "office," and on the return trip were taken on two wide circles of the city to let them pick out their homes, schools, paper routes, and other points of interest.

Highlights of the Seattle visit were trips to the Mercer Island floating bridge, University of Washington, Woodland Park, Queen Anne Heights, and dinner at the Seattle-Tacoma airport dining room overlooking the runways.

Supervisors on the trip were Roy I. Comrie, Times circulation manager, and Robert H. Wright, district manager.

Newsboys on the trip were Eddy McIldoon, Peter Mould, Bill Green, George Beecroft, Gordon Spriggs, Gary Cowley, Barry Bissett, Grant Carignan, John Watson, Roland Schiller, Barry Lowe, George Philion, Bill Lomas, Lawrence Valiant, David Knill, Michael Horn, Neil Harrison, Bruce Young, Brian Grieve, David Cronk, Conrad Schiller, George McCreadie, Terry Farmer, Dennis Pain, Sandy Medler and Tommy Akam.

IMMIGRANT GIVES LIFE FOR ONT. BOY

MIDLAND, Ont. (BUP)—Albert Nakaldal, 42-year-old Czech immigrant who fled his homeland a year ago to come to Canada, gave his life Sunday to save a 12-year-old boy from drowning.

Nakaldal collapsed and drowned in the harbor only a few feet from safety after rescuing young Morley Desjardins after the boy had fallen off a raft several hundred feet from shore.

Nakaldal, a strong swimmer, swam to the boy's side and towed him back to shallow water. He then collapsed and his body was found 40 minutes later in eight feet of water.

Police said Nakaldal's wife and daughter were still in Czechoslovakia.

Peron's News Cut Angers U.S. Congress

WASHINGTON (UP)—Members of Congress took a serious view today of the Argentine action which kept American Press Association news dispatches out of all but one of the country's newspapers.

The most severe move by Juan Peron's government was taken against the United Press. The United Press has been distributing news from Buenos Aires to papers in the interior over government radio facilities. It was notified that use of these facilities would be denied as of May 16.

No action was taken against the British service, Reuters, or the French agency, Agencie France Presse. Local newspapers now are dependent on these two agencies for all their foreign news.

Prior to leaving on a trip to the Near East and South Asia, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said the United States will make whatever representations are deemed necessary.

Most sparsely-populated state in South America is French Guiana, with 33,000 population in 35,000 square miles.

Old Soldier MP's Seek More Aid for Vets

All Four Parties Unite in Effort

OTTAWA (CP) — Old soldiers of the line, now Members of Parliament, laid siege to Veterans Minister Lapointe Saturday in a concerted campaign to have the government do better by needy ex-servicemen who need federal help to make ends meet.

They took over the evening hours of the first Saturday sitting of this session of Parliament as representatives of all four political parties in the House united in telling the government that it should:

1. Increase the war veterans allowances, paid to aged and needy overseas veterans and widows of their comrades, to $60 from $50 a month for single recipients and to $120 from $90 for married recipients.

2. Clear the way for those recipients to earn more outside income without having their allowances cut. They said single recipients should be able to have a total income of $1,200 a year, including allowance, married recipients $2,000 instead of the current $720 and $1,200.

3. Make a veterans' committee of the Commons a permanent institution so veterans can always count on a parliamentary forum.

Mr. Lapointe's rebuttal will come Monday when, the House was told, the dinner hour will be cut in a new move to try to speed prorogation.

Griffin, Milligan Star In Soccer Cup-Tie Play

Adanacs 5, Canadian Scottish 3
Victoria United 2, Civil Service 1

The tip of the soccer hat this week-end went to Ken Griffin and Wally Milligan, a pair of local cuties who propelled their respective teams to brilliant cup victories.

Griffin, Adanac youngster, rapped in four goals Sunday as Adanacs downed Canadian Scottish 5-3 in a two and a half hour overtime marathon to capture the Jackson Cup.

The bow-legged warhorse Milligan, who appears to have stashed his retirement plans, returned to the United line-up Saturday and scored one goal and set up the other as United scored a 2-1 victory over Civil Service to win the Vancouver Island Province Cup championship.

Two half-hour overtime periods were needed for Adanacs to carve out their close victory over a stubborn Scottish aggregation in a game played before a large crowd at Macdonald Park.

Both teams opened fast and Adanacs got a 1-0 lead when Griffin fired in a ground shot past Scottish goalie Ken Wright after three minutes of play.

Griffin got his second goal, a beautiful blast with his left foot to the far corner, minutes later to boost his club into a 2-0 lead.

SCOTS RALLY

Scottish put on the pressure and were rewarded at the 20-minute mark when outside left Jack Blevins caught a pass close to the Adanac nets. He shot and goalie John Moss made a fine block. However, Blevins bustled the rebound home for his club's first goal.

At the 44-minute mark, one minute before the half, Scottish's starry outside right Jeff Wilkinson netted the goal that tied the score at 2-2.

Jim Davidson scored with a hard shot from 18 yards out two minutes into the second half to give Adanacs a 3-2 margin which they held until the 24-minute mark. At that time the Scots were awarded a penalty kick and Gordie Hobson beat Moss with a hard shot just under the bar.

Neither club could net the untying goal in regulation time although the Scots missed at least three good chances.

There was no scoring in the first overtime period so the teams agreed to play another period.

Both teams began to tire under the hot sun but Griffin got his third goal and gave his club the victory after five minutes when he took a pass at centre field and went through the defence to score. Griffin added an insurance goal five minutes later when he deflected John Weldon's 30-yard free kick from the touch-line.

UNITED TRAILS

Speedy Bob Clarke gave Civil Service a 1-0 lead over United after 26 minutes of play in Saturday's game, collaborating with winger Ab Travis for a pretty goal.

However, United forced play and tied the score 13 minutes later when Milligan took a pass from John Pickburn and pulled the defence over before passing off to Bernie Clarkson who tied the count with a low drive.

Milligan gave United victory five minutes into the second half when he headed Denny McGee's cross past Civil Service goalie Joe Travis.

Fans at Sunday's game had a new treat when half-time music was supplied by the Canadian Scottish band under the baton of G. King. It is hoped to have this band in attendance at every game next year.

REGINA DELEGATION TO ATTEND WHL PARLEY

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—President G. A. Leader has disclosed that a one-man delegation from Regina will sit in this week on the Western Hockey League's annual meeting in Seattle.

Leader said that Denny Everson, sponsor of the Regina team in the Western Canada Baseball League, wanted to "explore the possibility of a franchise for Regina" in the WHL.

The meeting starts Wednesday.

It has been suggested that a fourth prairie entry in the league would make for easier scheduling and a better balance. There are three prairie teams in the circuit now—Edmonton, Calgary and Saskatoon—which games awkward scheduling of home games.

LaPOINTE GREAT IN RELIEF

Tars Tie for Softball Lead

Navy 8, Ladysmith 3
Pitzer and Nex 6, Ladysmith 6

Navy, of the Senior A Men's Softball League, moved into a tie for first place Sunday afternoon at Central Park, defeating the visiting Ladysmith nine 8-3 behind the great relief hurling of Rene Lapointe.

Lapointe came in to pitch in the sixth inning after starting hurler Norm Haskell had lost his zip. He threw perfect ball for the final four innings, retiring 12 men in a row.

Ladysmith played their first league game on Saturday night at the up-Island city, tying Pitzer and Nex. Sunday's game marked the first appearance at Central Park, and they showed that they are going to be a team to be reckoned with over the season.

They are always tough to beat on their home as the Gasmen discovered, being forced to come from behind in the ninth inning in a wild and wooly game to eke out a 6-6 tie. The game was called at the end of the ninth inning on account of darkness.

Big and lean Ken Allen opened on the hill for Ladysmith Sunday and had trouble getting squared away in the first inning.

BIG FIRST INNING

Navy sent nine batters to the plate and scored five runs on three hits, three passed balls, a wild pitch and three walks.

The losers finally got a run in the top of the fourth when Jack Copp leaned into a change of pace pitch and hit a ground rule triple down the field line. He later scored on an infield out.

Four solid hits in this top of the fifth almost sent Haskell to the showers after two more runs had put the visitors within two runs at 5-3, but Haskell survived only through some great defensive work by his teammates.

With Haskell visibly tiring, coach Mickey Smith wasted no time in getting him off the hill after he walked the first batter in the sixth, and that brought on Rene Lapointe.

In the meantime the locals were having their troubles with Allen and his fast pitches, but he, too, lost his touch in the bottom of the sixth.

WALKS OFF MOUND

He walked three more batters, threw a couple of wild pitches that brought in two runs, and finally walked off the mound himself after throwing two called balls to Smith.

Buzz-baller Henry Wong came on in relief and he lost Smith to load the bases again, but Ron Webster hit into a double play by way of centre and home to end the inning.

Navy scored their final run in the eighth on a double by Jeff Worrall and a long single by Doug Boettcher.

Haskell gained credit for the win and the loss was charged to Allen.

Tonight's action at Central Park pits the front-running Chinese Students against the still winless Butler Bros.' Aces. Game time at 6.30.

Short score follows:		R.	H.	E.
Ladysmith	000 120 000—	3	7	1
Navy	500 002 01x—	8	7	1

Allen, Wong and Jack Copp; Haskell, Lapointe and Smith.

LANGLOIS UPSET

BOSTON (AP)—Joe Rindone of Boston registered an upset victory over French middleweight Pierre Langlois with a split decision in their 10-round bout Saturday night at Boston Garden. Rindone weighed 161½ and Langlois 160.

Sam Wins Greenbrier As Bantam Ben Falters

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (AP) — Sam Snead brought an end to Ben Hogan's all-conquering 1953 golf trail Sunday in winning his third consecutive Greenbrier Open.

Hogan, winner of his first two tourneys this year, faltered in the second half of the 72-hole tournament to finish third. Jack Burke Jr., went past him for second money of $1,000 with a 64 on the last round, still three strokes in back of Snead, who took away $2,000.

Hogan wound up tied for third with Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N.C.

Snead's last round 68 was the highest he shot in the four days on his home course, but it was good enough to win with a 72-hole total of 268.

Snead wound up 12 strokes ahead of the par-70 course. It was the highest score to win since the tourney was started five years ago.

Cary Middlecoff won the inaugural 15 strokes to the good of par. Hogan carved it up for 21 strokes lower the next year and in the last two Snead was 17 and 16 under.

Heafner followed Snead in with a 67 to pull up even with Hogan and divide $1,150 with him.

Andrews Colwood Medalist

George Andrews fired a brilliant 68, two strokes under par, to take medal honors in the qualifying round of the Colwood Golf Club men's championship Sunday.

Andrewes went out in 32 and had a 36 on the back nine. Runner-up to Andrews was Ted Colgate, who shot a 70. Laurie Kerr and Vic Painter had 72's.

Qualifiers follow:

Andrews, G. B. Sparling, E. Colgate, W. McCol, L. Kerr, J. Robertson, E. Woodhouse, T. Harris Jr., B. Hogarth, T. Mathers, W. Allen, W. Yardley, L. Greenwood, Col. McCooey, V. Painter, E. W. McIntyre.

Mal Potts Tops Cycle Club Trial

Junior rider Mal Potts was clocked in at one hour, seven minutes and 52 2/5 seconds Sunday to take a decisive victory in the Victoria Cycling Club's 25-mile time trial over a new course.

His time was two minutes 18 3/5 seconds better than that of Alf Mathews, who holds the record for the 25-mile at present. However, the times were far off the records as the course was unfamiliar to the racers. Scotty Chalmers was third.

Assaults will be made on Canadian records May 30 when the local club hosts racers from Vancouver and Seattle in an open event.

Shirley Fry In Easy Win

Medalist Shirley Fry hurdled the first step in the Gorge Vale Golf Club women's championship Sunday as she scored a 7 and 6 victory over Mrs. B. Bennett in the first round of match play.

Other scores follow:

V. Kirkham won from K. Rickson, 2 up; M. Crawford won from C. Stevenson, 5 and 3; L. Thirlwell won from E. Cann, 6 and 5; B. Patterson won from B. Johnston, 8 and 6; E. Carroll won from M. Wakelyn, 1 up; N. O'Connell won from F. Clark, 3 and 2; I. Keown won from M. Stewart, 3 and 2.

Gorge Tourney

Play moves into the semi-finals in the championship round of the Gorge Vale Golf Club men's championship next week-end.

On Sunday, Dave Fanthorpe moved into the semis, defeating Les Holding 5 and 4, John Merriman downed Derek McCooey 3 and 1, and Bob Johnstone beat Vince Clarkson, 5 and 4.

These three winners will be joined by the winner of the Bob Fleming-Hugh Morrison match which will be played during the week.

Fleming, Morrison Gain Island Open Golf Final

Pryke's Cast-Off Putter Comes Back to Haunt Him

By DENNY BOYD

An ugly, wooden-shafted, square-handled putter that Joe Pryke figured he'd seen the last of, came back to haunt him Sunday in the semifinal round of the Vancouver Island Open Golf Tournament at Gorge Vale Golf Club.

Pryke, veteran Gorge Vale pro, sold the unorthodox putting tool to Bob Fleming three months ago. And it was this club that the 21-year-old Fleming used to belabor Pryke, 9 and 8, in a magnificent display of green accuracy.

Fleming, Island open winner two years ago, now meets veteran Bob Morrison of Uplands a week next Sunday for the Island championship.

Morrison teetered on the brink of elimination for a while but fought off a brilliant comeback effort by Colwood's pressure specialist, Vic Painter, dedefeating Painter, 2 up, in the other 36-hole semifinal bracket.

Fleming said after the tournament that it was the best round of golf he had ever shot and Pryke, Fleming's teacher, was quick to agree.

Pryke himself shot good golf but good golf, not even par golf, would have been enough to beat the Sloppy-Joe sweater-wearing Fleming who awed a large gallery with his mastery on the greens.

Fleming had a one-under par 35 for the first nine holes, was three under at the end of 18, five under after 27 and sliced one more stroke off regulation figures on the 28th hole, last of the match.

Over the 28 holes, Fleming had 11 birdies, 12 pars and 5 bogies.

Fleming's Birdies Came in Flocks

Off the tees and one the fairways, there was little to choose between Fleming and Pryke, the latter's short game being exceptionally sharp. But there was just no comparison when it came to putting.

In the morning round, Fleming used only 28 putts, navigating nine of the 18 holes with one putt. In the 10 afternoon holes, he used 13 putts, scoring seven one-putt efforts.

Fleming won the first hole of the match with a birdie and the last with a birdie.

Pryke was two over par for the first 18 holes and three over for the entire 28 holes, showing graphically just how hot Fleming had to be to administer his one-sided victory.

Fleming shot four of his birds on the first nine to give him a two up lead. He birdied the 10th and 11th to go four up. Pryke got a half on the 12th by sinking a chip shot and won the 13th to reduce his deficit to three holes when Fleming caught a bunker on his second shot.

The short 14th was halved in regulation three's but Fleming went four up again on the 15th when a badly sliced tee shot cost Pryke a bogie six. The 16th and 17th were halved but Fleming won the 18th, sinking an electrifying 25-footer for a birdie three, giving him a five-hole margin at lunch time.

Morrison Holds Off Great Rally

Morrison had to go the full 36-hole route for his victory although he was four up after 27 holes.

Painter had picked up a one-hole lead after nine but Morrison came back to take a one-up lead after the morning round.

A large part of the gallery from the Pryke-Fleming match did not bother to follow Morrison and Painter, figuring that with Morrison enjoying a four-up lead, the match was as good as over. However, they failed to reckon with Painter's renowned pressure tactics.

Over the last nine holes of the match, Painter fired a steady one-under par 35, scoring seven fours and one three. He had six pars, two birdies and one bogey in his great comeback effort.

After Morrison won the 28th to go five up, Painter won the next hole to go four down again, one-putted the 30th to go three down and was only two down as he won the 31st. The short 32nd was halved.

Both got tremendous drives on the 33rd and Painter followed with a long wood to the green. Morrison smothered his second shot, got a nice third shot away but Painter one-putted and was only one down.

Morrison sliced his drive on the 34th but got a half when Painter three-putted after driving the edge of the green.

Morrison was 40 yards off to the side of the green after his second shot on the 35th but chipped to within eight feet of the pin. Lying two 35 feet from the pin, Painter missed his putt by scant inches and Morrison got a half with a fine putt under great pressure.

Painter hit one of his best drives of the day on the 36th hole but a sizzling four iron shot after a hooked drive put Morrison four feet from the pin from where he putted for a birdie and the match.

The B championship will be an all-Victoria affair as George Straith scored a 3 and 2 victory over J. E. Egger of Duncan and Joe Briggs downed Duncan's C. Wright, 5 and 4.

Garner Blanks Eagles In Senior Ball Opener

Farmer's Construction opened the Senior Amateur League season on a highly successful note Sunday by blanking Eagles, 15-0, behind an eight-hit pitching chore turned in by left-hander Bill Garner at Royal Athletic Park.

Garner was in fine form, striking out six while walking only five men. He also contributed two singles in four official times at bat.

Eagles' pitchers Pete Kirchner and Ray Ramsay fared not so well. Kirchner started the contest but went out under fire in the last of the sixth, giving up eight runs and walking four. Ramsay walked four in the sixth, allowed two hits, one a double by Doug Stewart and contributed to his downfall by committing one error.

Eagles had a total of eight base hits, all singles, but couldn't bunch them for any runs.

Farmer's infield played faultlessly but Eagles' inner defense left much to be desired, committing six errors.

Farmer's scored four runs in the second, two in the fourth, two in the fifth, and closed out the run-scoring spree in the eighth with three more.

Ald. Brent Murdoch, Reeve Joseph Casey of Saanich and Johnny Johnson, director of the Tyees, took part in a brief pre-game ceremony.

Next amateur game will take place tonight when Eagles meet Page the Cleaners at Windsor Park at 6.30.

BRAVES BOW TWICE

Tyees Face Crucial Test

Victoria 9, 16; Tri-City 2, 1

By BILL WALKER

Victoria Tyees moved into Vancouver today for their first crucial series of the first half of Western International League play.

Scheduled to meet the third-place Capilanos in nine games during the next eight days, the Tyees put their second-place rating on the line against the team voted most likely to succeed where the champion Tyees left off last year.

The Tyees regained second place from the Caps Saturday by two-timing Tri-City, 9-2, and 16-1, while the Caps split a double bill with Salem. The Salons took the nightcap 7-3, after losing the opener, 7-2.

FOURTH FOR HOPP

Twenty-year-old Don Hopp won his fourth victory without defeat in the Saturday afternoon contest, as he allowed the Braves but seven hits.

Zebadiah Walker, rookie negro lefthander who made his first start a route-going performance, set the Braves down with four singles in the night game as the Tyees pummelled Tri-City hurlers for 15 blows.

It was Walker's second win of the season against no losses.

PRIES ON HIT SPREE

Third baseman Don Pries led the 11-hit attack in the afternoon contest with three hits and continued his assault in the night game, driving in four runs with another trio of blows.

Bob Moniz broke a long hitless string with a double and single in the first game and a double and two singles in the nightcap. He, too, drove in four runs in the evening contest.

Chuck Abernathy hit two triples in the second game as the Tyees scored early and often. Abernathy drove in three runs.

Lu Branham started the run orgy in the 16-1 power display with a home run on the first ball pitched to offset Tri-City's only run, scored without benefit of a base hit.

Tyees added two more runs in the first, punched across five in the second and sent 13 batters to the plate in the wild third inning, eight runs crossing the plate before Dale Bloom, third Tri-City pitcher could call a halt to the rout. Bloom shut out the Tyees the rest of the way.

WALKER IMPRESSES

Walker was in serious trouble in only the first inning and that through wildness. The Braves didn't get their first hit until the fourth. Three double plays, bringing the club's total to 21 for the season, gave the slim lefthander any extra assistance he may have needed.

Lewiston Wins Pair, Stretches WIL Lead

Lewiston Broncs took both ends of a baseball doubleheader from Spokane Indians Sunday to retain their role as Western International League pace-setter.

Cashing in on erratic pitching and sloppy fielding, Broncs pulled two and one-half games in front of idle Victoria with 3-1, 8-4 wins over Indians. Broncs won the night contest with a four-run outburst in the 10th inning.

Wenatchee also swept a double-header, clipping Edmonton 3-2 and 1-0, while Yakima and Calgary split, Bears taking the opener 4-3 on Danny Rios' six-hit pitching, but dropping the nightcap 16-0.

Vancouver played—and lost—an exhibition game, but other clubs took the day off. Caps were defeated 9-1 by Bellingham Bells, Washington state semi-pro champs, in the exhibition contest at Bellingham.

In Saturday games, Wenatchee downed Edmonton 10-7 and Calgary shut out Yakima 2-0.

PRAIRIE CLUBS AT HOME

Three games are on tap tonight, with Edmonton and Calgary playing their first home games, meeting Yakima and Wenatchee respectively, and Victoria at Vancouver.

It will mark the first time in 31 years that professional baseball has been seen in the prairie centres. Capacity crowds are expected at both Calgary and Edmonton.

Puck Debate Opens

Rule Changes Thought Likely

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association opened its annual meeting today at this border point on a happy international note, but with an internal problem still demanding major and immediate attention.

Representatives of the International Ice Hockey Federation and the United States amateur body and the president of the Japanese Hockey Union were on hand.

So were five representatives of Quebec province who didn't know early today whether they were in or out of the deliberations.

Members of the suspended Quebec Amateur Hockey Association met at least half a dozen times, both in Toronto and Niagara Falls during the week-end, preparing and revising their formal application for reinstatement.

Information from a western delegate was to the effect that the draft application, as first submitted, was not to the liking of the CAHA officers.

The CAHA's big Quebec branch was suspended last February for defying the parent body by issuing a playing certificate to a junior player. Each side maintained it was correct in its interpretation of the CAHA regulations involved.

The QAHA now seeks readmission. It still maintains it acted correctly. Its application for reinstatement therefore hinges on wording in its apology for flouting an edict of the CAHA—not on the principle involved in issuance of the certificate, at least so far as the QAHA is concerned. A western informant said common ground probably could be reached.

QUEBEC PROBLEM

Immediate action is necessary if QAHA delegates are to take their places, or be elected to places, on functioning committees or the parent body. The resolutions committee sits today and possibly the rules committee and the regular general meetings begin Tuesday.

Several changes are reported in resolutions regarding rules. One is said to deal with replacement of goalkeepers in playoffs.

As regulations stand, a goalie may be replaced by one from an outside team if the incapacitated goalie, through a medical certificate, is declared out for the series. It now is suggested a replacement can be made for only so long as the goalie is incapacitated—one game or more, or in and out again.

How far this proposal will get is conjectural. Another is said to deal with icing the puck, to lighten the burden on the short-handed team.

HONORED VISITORS

The Japanese visitors at the pre-session meetings were Prince Tsuneyoshi and his wife. The prince, on his way to Europe, said he is hopeful of arranging exhibition games in Japan with a Canadian team. The Japanese Skating Union is a member of the IIHE and Japan expects to resume Olympic hockey competition in 1956.

North Saanich Track Results

Six champions were named Friday as North Saanich High School held its annual track and field meet at Sidney War Memorial Park.

Darey Frousil scored three firsts and two thirds to win the senior boys' championship over runner-up Jim Norbury, while Doreen Gordon and Shirley Polson scored three firsts each to tie for the senior girls' championship.

BOSOX MATES TOO ROUGH ON ONCE MILD BILLY

BOSTON (CP)—Second-baseman Billy Goodman of Boston Red Sox suffered a rib injury Sunday while teammate Jim Piersall was dragging him bodily to the dugout in an effort to keep him from arguing with the umpire.

The normally mild-mannered Goodman went after umpire Jim Duffy after complaining about the call on a close play in the fifth inning. Piersall restrained Goodman and his action in pulling Goodman to the dugout apparently caused a minor strain of a rib cartilege. The second baseman is expected to be able to play again Tuesday.

CRICKET SEASON OPENS

Bays, Albions, Incogs Score

By TONY BRISTOWE

Cricketers put away childish things over the week-end and settled down to the serious business of league games.

Oak Bay brought back three points from their visit to Duncan, where they defeated Cowichan by six wickets. This was not as easy a win as it sounds.

Cowichan batted first and compiled the respectable total of 98. Geoff. Dyson was top scorer with 27. Bob Walton and John Frederick batted confidently and Bob Moffatt did some lusty hitting. Bowling honors for Oak Bay were shared by Ted Parkins (4 for 40) and Bernard Lennox (5 for 19). Parkins bowled 12 overs, which is enough for any man at the beginning of the season, and there was not much help in the pitch. Fast bowler Ted Martin was impressive in his debut for Oak Bay; he was accurate and showed a fair turn of speed.

Things looked black for Oak Bay after two of their first three batsmen were out by hitting with their eyes fixed on the far distance instead of on the ball. But with the connivance of two fielders who shall for decency's sake be nameless, Bob Colquhoun survived the awkward patch and went on to make a hard-hit 66 not out. Claude Green took the first two wickets, and then, perhaps happily for Oak Bay, had to leave.

CONTRAST IN GROUNDS

It was pleasing to see the amount of work Cowichan had done on their grounds. By contrast, Albions and Alcos struggled to play on a surface at Windsor Park more suited to football than cricket—for which incidentally it was used until recently.

Under the circumstances, 99 by Alcos looked a winning score. However, Eric Gledden and Denny Hendra put 30 on the board in short time and, helped by Bob Mainwaring's 39, the rest of the runs came quickly to give Albions the win by six wickets.

INCOGS STOP FIVE C's

Fireworks were the order of the day at Beacon Hill Park Sunday. Five C's were summarily dismissed by Incogs for 21 runs. Splendid bowling by "Strath" Goddard and Jim Sherratt did the damage. Goddard took five for seven with his out-swingers, and Sherratt four for 13. Incogs snapped up their chances in the field, running out George Payne and holding on to three catches in the slips. George Hill was the only batsman to look at all comfortable.

The excitement was still not over, for without any runs scored Five Cs had sent T. Melly and Dave Mackenzie back to the pavilion, another run-out accounting for Mackenzie. After that Incogs settled down to the business in hand, and passed Five C's score with seven wickets standing. They went on to score freely before the scorebook was closed after they had batted for 2½ hours.

No Rabbit In Philly

Home Runs Plentiful Except for A's, Phils

If anybody has put the rabbit into the baseballs, it's news to the Philadelphia Athletics and Phillies.

While nearly every other club was blasting the ball out of the park Sunday, the two Philadelphia clubs were held to only two extra base hits in three games. And they were measly two-baggers by Athletics Eddie Joost and Eddie McGhee.

Washington Senators dumped the Athletics in both ends of a doubleheader, 8-0 and 6-2, while Brooklyn Dodgers wrested the National League lead from the Phillies with a 5-0 triumph.

Bob Porterfield permitted the Athletics only one hit in the opener, a seventh-inning single by Joost. That gave manager Jimmy Dykes' light-hitting crew the unenviable distinction of being handcuffed with no hits, two hits and one hit in a space of four games.

28 HOME RUNS

A total of 28 home runs was hit Sunday. They included two each by Cleveland's Al Rosen and Cincinnati's Andy Seminick, a grand slammer by the Indians' Ray Boone and three pinch-hit homers by Bobby Hofman of New York Giants, Del Wilber of Boston Red Sox and Grant Dunlap of St. Louis Cards. Even the pitchers partook of the home run festival, Washington's Porterfield and Cleveland's Dave Hoskins joining in.

Four Cleveland homers accounted for all but one of the dozen runs the Indians tallied in the final two innings to rout St. Louis Browns 12-3. Rosen snapped Virgil Trucks' seven shutout skein with his first round-tripper in the eighth. Hoskins, Boone and Rosen again homered in the eight-run ninth.

The victory boosted the Indians into the American League lead by two percentage points over the Yankees despite New York's half-game margin in games won and lost.

YANKS WIN

The Yankees collected 14 safeties to down the Red Sox, 7-4. Vic Raschi relieved starter Allie Reynolds for New York and was credited with the victory. There were two Boston homers, one by catcher Sammy White, the other by pinch hitter Wilber.

Detroit shortstop Harvey Kuenn hit his first major league home run to help the Tigers defeat Chicago 8-6 in the first game of their doubleheader. The White Sox took the second game 10-5.

The circuit clout also played a prominent role in the Giants' sweep of two games from Pittsburgh, 4-0 and 3-2. Don Mueller hit a solo homer and Davey Williams hit a three-runner off Murry Dickson to account for the Giants' first game runs as Sal Maglie spun a three-hit shutout. Hofman's pinch-hit homer in the ninth snapped a 2-2 tie.

Stewart Takes Lead As Top Money Winner

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP)—Earl Stewart Jr. hit the biggest jackpot of his young professional career Sunday by winning the $26,300, Ardmore Open golf tournament with a two-over par 282. He did it with a final round 37-37—74, one over par.

Stewart's steady performance over the tough 6,483-yard Dornick Hills Country Club course netted him $6,900 of sponsor Waco Turner's money and vaulted him into the top position as the year's leading money winner.

The hard-hitting Texan, boosted his year's earnings to $10,850 to surpas Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., veteran, who finished farther down the list in this extravaganza of greenbacks.

Jerry Barbar, La Canada, Calif., took down second money with a 285 on a final-round 72. He was enriched $3,000 as the runner-up.

Ed Oliver of Palm Springs, Calif., also faded in the final stages and tied for third place with Jimmie Gauntt of Oklahoma City.

Oliver and Gauntt pick up $2,350 each for their six-over-par 286s.

Eagles Take Baxter Trophy

Eagles fifth division Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association soccer team captured the John Barter trophy Sunday by downing Heaney's, 4-0, at Hollwood Park.

David Benson notched two goals while Lonnie Restell and Gar Robbins added singletons for the winners.

A game between fifth division Eagles and Shepherd's Dairy has been scheduled for Wednesday night at 6 in Hollywood Park. These two teams tied in second-half play and if Shepherd's are victorious they will force a league championship playoff Saturday.

World Record

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Muscular Patty O'Brien of the University of South California Saturday night set a world record for the shot-put of 59 feet ¾ inches in the 27th annual West Coast relays.

The listed record of 58 feet 10½ inches was established by Jim Fuches of Yale in 1950.

ROCKS DROP TO THIRD

Pils Unbeaten, Tribe Nips Sons

Victoria Shamrocks, idle over the week-end, are now in third place in the Intercity Lacrosse League.

PNE Indians vaulted into second place Saturday night by downing Nanaimo Native Sons, 11-8, while Vancouver Pilsners continued their undefeated streak by clipping New Westminster, 17-7, at Vancouver.

More than 1,600 fans were on hand to see Indians defeat Sons at Nanaimo. The score was tied 4-4 at the end of the first quarter and 6-6 at half time. Indians led 8-7 at the end of the third quarter and then big Stan Joseph shut the door, allowing Sons only one goal in the final canto.

Pilsners have now won three of their four starts while tieing one with Nanaimo, to remain the only unbeaten team in the league.

Salmonacs rallied in the third quarter to close the score to 7-5, but Pilsners pulled away easily in the final.

The game was marred by an injury to Vancouver goalie Jack Green who was felled by a shot from Bob Raffle. The ball cracked through Green's mask knocking the youngster cold. He was taken to Vancouver General Hospital suffering a possible fractured cheekbone.

Maurie Woods substituted for Green, who had held Westminster scoreless until the time of his injury.

Mathews Breaks Long Abstinence

PORTLAND (AP)—Seattle's Harry Kid Matthews makes his first ring start in a year here Tuesday when he meets Freddie Beshore of Los Angeles in a scheduled 10-round heavyweight bout.

YONKERS, N.Y. (CP)—Harness racing's Grand Circuit will begin its 80th season Monday when it opens a two-week stand at Yonkers raceway.

How To Grow Thousands Of Flowers Without Dirtying Your Hands

Plant Scientists Reveal How To Make Flowers, Fruit Trees, Shrubs, Bloom In Virtually Any Soil—Even If You've Never Planted A Seed Before In Your Life!

By ADRIAN ARTHUR GROMIS

VICTORIA, B.C. —Within the next minute's reading time you will see on this page a "radioactive" photograph taken at a leading American Government Agricultural Experimental Station.

What's this got to do with flowers? This photograph will show that YOU, who may know next to nothing about gardening, can turn your garden into the showplace of the community with thousands of colorful, flaming blossoms — not five years from now—not next year—but this season—even if right now you don't have a seed in the ground, and even if your soil is undernourished . . . YOU can grow basketfuls of jumbo-size, garden-fresh vegetables . . . pick luscious vegetables . . . tomatoes, lettuce, cucumbers from a vegetable patch right in your own backyard. And that YOU can amaze the "experts" in your neighborhood with a rich, thick carpet of lawn—and at a cost so low, it's almost too ridiculous to mention! And you won't even have to dirty your hands digging messy evil-smelling fertilizers into the soil!

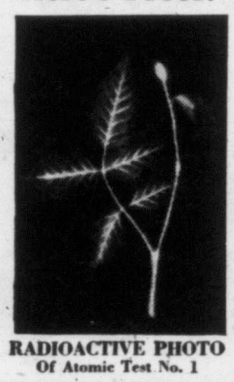
What Scientists Discovered

Do you know that when mice in a laboratory are fed on a diet of mineral-poor flour, they are so weakened that they often cannot walk in a week, cannot see after two weeks, often die in three weeks. But if they are fed life-giving whole wheat flour for as little as seven days, they frisk around like cub tigers.

And the same thing is true of every plant in the world! Starve it of even one of the vital, life-giving elements and minerals it needs for rich, green foliage, heavy branching and vigorous, healthy roots and you won't get any flowers no matter how much sun and water you give it — no matter how many hours you slave over it.

This is what makes most average people throw up their hands in disgust and say, "Well, gardening's not for me, I give up!" They just don't realize that almost all garden soils are to some degree deficient in at least one of the 13 life-giving soil elements a plant needs to bloom and flourish. But now read about the scientific 60-minute test that can make all kinds of flowers bloom for you by the thousands in virtually any soil!

Here's Proof!



RADIOACTIVE PHOTO
Of Atomic Test No. 1

For many years, scientists at one of America's leading Plant Experiment Stations have been testing new types of concentrated plant foods—plant foods that contain all of the 13 vital soil elements necessary for plant life—plant foods that could be dissolved in ordinary sink water, and when sprinkled on lawns or plants could go to work in minutes.

Finally in the spring of 1951 these scientists added traces of radioactive isotopes to these new types of liquid plant foods to see how fast they could reach every root, every leaf, every stem, every tissue. The solution was applied to roots of ordinary plants. Exactly 60 minutes later leaves were cut off and pressed against radio-sensitive film. Now look at the picture below, left!

Look at the light, bright areas on the leaf and stem! It shows that this liquid type of plant food is so highly effective, so fast acting that it is absorbed by roots and reaches vital growing tips of leaves not in weeks, not in months, but in exactly 60 minutes.

Who Ever Heard Of Growing Beautiful Flowers Without Dirtying Your Hands?

Meantime, plant scientists at a western research laboratory made a second astonishing discovery! They found that when dissolved in water, these liquid plant foods of the RX-15 type become readily available to plants. You don't even have to work heavy fertilizers into the soil. Late in the summer of 1952 they discovered that when certain trace elements were added to that plant food in a special way (NUTREGENE* PROCESS) you could merely sprinkle it on leaves of mineral-starved plants and see bloom you never dreamed possible in undernourished soil. Because not only do the leaves instantly absorb the vital iron, copper, manganese, zinc, nitrogen and other minerals in the plant food—but even more important automatically shoots life-giving nutrition to the vital mineral-starved parts of the plant where it is most needed.

Why Grow A Few Measly Flowers When You Can Grow Thousands Just As Easily?

And now do you realize what this type of plant food means to you if you are a person who loves flowers? It means that today you can send your child out with his sprinkling can to spray a few leaves—and in 10 splash-happy minutes he can revitalize your whole undernourished lawn and garden . . . give you results you never dreamed possible in 7 days!

It means that whether you're an expert gardener or the greenest beginner — now YOU can make plants bloom even in the most mineral-starved soil with just a sprinkle or two of this ridiculously inexpensive plant food —RX-15!

This type of plant food means that you can grow masses of beautiful roses, dahlias, phlox, gladiolus and chrysanthemums in your garden this season with a sprinkling of this plant food once or twice a month. It means that no matter how starved your soil may be now, with a few sprinklings of RX-15, you can pick baskets full of all kinds of vegetables . . . juicy tomatoes, massive heads of lettuce, cabbages, luscious corn, peas and strawberries from a small patch right in your own backyard!

A Beautiful Garden—Yours For Pennies!

It means that RX-15 can help you grow a thick, golf-green lawn the very first time you try —and it will only cost you pennies to apply it! It means you can grow hundreds of flowers in your window boxes—grow thousands of flowers this season from plants you already have in your garden, from seeds you can still place in the ground!

And because RX-15 instantly feeds plants all 13 life-giving soil minerals they may need for healthy growth, even in undernourished soil, it means that merely sprinkling with RX-15 can make mineral-starved lawns, fruit trees, shrubs, houseplants start to spring back to new life, not next year—but next week!

It means that very possibly you may still pick basket after basket of plump fruits and rich berries from fruit trees that years ago stopped producing. It means you can watch scraggly shrubs suddenly burst out with showy masses of blossoms, leaves or berries! It means that with RX-15, you can produce giant flowers from your undernourished soil in brilliant colors so much richer, deeper, brighter than your neighbors; they'll think they're looking at a new variety!

It means that you can have the garden of your dream this season . . . but nature does the work —not you! You'll be delighted at the way plants, seedlings, shrubs, bulbs, and fruit trees start shooting out new buds, stems, branches . . . the way they produce thicker, greener, bigger leaves and flowers, even in undernourished soil, when you sprinkle them with a spoonful of RX-15 dissolved in a gallon of water—and it goes to work instantly!

See These Amazing Results In Your Lawn In Just 7 Days

GROW YOUR NAME IN THE GRASS! Make this dramatic 7 day test and see for yourself how fast-acting RX-15 can turn your sick-looking grass into a rich carpet of lawn this season. Dissolve a tablespoonful of RX-15 in a gallon of water and write the letters of your name right on your lawn. In just 7 days you'll see that RX-15 treated lawn growing so much thicker, greener, faster than your untreated section, that you'll actually be able to read your name on that grass as if it were written on paper. Just one example of the rapid growing power of RX-15.

21 DAYS MADE THIS DIFFERENCE

Actual photos and letter sent in by Mrs. Mary Hess of Brooklyn, N. Y., demonstrates amazing growing power of RX-15.

"Due to illness I had almost given up hopes of having a nice flower garden. The beds in front of the newly built porch were pitifully bare. All I had were a few struggling Zinnia and Snap Dragon plants. My "Heavenly Blue" Morning Glories growing next to the pillars were barely 4 inches high. Then I heard about RX-15. I sprinkled it on my garden once when it arrived and again eleven days later. To the astonishment of myself and all my neighbors, in a few days everything started to grow just beautifully. Just 3 weeks later when my son and his bride came up to see me, they nearly keeled over at the marvelous change. Surrounding the entire house were thick masses of flowers growing over knee high. The Morning Glories reached the porch roof and were loaded with an abundance of the most gorgeous blue blossoms. It really seemed like a miracle. Your wonderful product surely fulfills all the given promises. P. S. I am sending you "Before" and "After" photos of my house. Mary Hess, 5917 Putnam Ave., Brooklyn 27, N. Y.

Letters From Home Gardeners Rave About Remarkable Results

"Largest Zinnias Ever"

Mrs. Madeline Berner, Pittsburgh, Pa.: "Sprinkled RX-15 on some late flower seeds I decided to plant at the end of the season. To the utter amazement of myself and my neighbors, I have grown the largest Zinnias you have ever seen. RX-15 is truly the marvel of all plant foods."

"Tomato Plants 8 Feet Tall"

Mr. Gustaf A. Lundberg, Chicago, Ill.: "I had so many flowers and vegetables I didn't know what to do with them all. My tomato plants were over 8 feet tall. Had 42 tomatoes on one plant alone—over 400 tomatoes in all. RX-15 is wonderful!"

"Roses Bloom In October"

Mrs. Charles E. Price, Phila., Pa.: "Used RX-15 on my rose bushes early last spring. It is now October and my roses are still blooming freely. They are much larger and deeper in color than any roses I have ever seen. All my neighbors stop to admire my beautiful garden."

"Kept 3 Friends' Houses Full Of Flowers"

Mrs. Mark Prevost, Detroit, Michigan: "Thanks to RX-15 we had the most beautiful Mums in the whole neighborhood. I kept 3 friends' houses, besides my own, full of flowers all summer long."

"Does All You Say And More"

Herb's Greenhouse, Dwight, Ill.: "Have used all kinds of plant foods and fertilizers and there is nothing that can compare to RX-15. It does all you say and more."

AND NOW FOR THE FIRST TIME RX-15 CONTAINS "NUTREGENE" — THE "GROWTH" INGREDIENT THAT INCREASES GROWING POWER. SO IF RX-15 WORKED SUCH WONDERS LAST YEAR, IMAGINE WHAT IT CAN DO IN YOUR GARDEN THIS YEAR!

Photographic Proof Of Test No. 2

ONE PINCH OF RX-15 MAKES THIS DIFFERENCE. Look at these two young geranium plants. Both were potted the same day, in the same soil, grew side by side under identical conditions. Plant A received normal supply of water once a week. Plant B, at right, received same supply of water with tiny trace of RX-15 added. Photos above show the difference only 24 days later. Now available to gardeners, RX-15 works wonders on all your plants, flowers, grass and shrubs in just a few days.

LOOK WHO'S THE FAMILY GARDENER NOW!

MARY, MARY, QUITE CONTRARY, HOW DOES YOUR GARDEN GROW? Unlike the Mary of nursery rhyme fame, this young miss does know what makes her garden grow. Read the article below. It tells how a wonderful new plant food discovery and a child's sprinkling-can make flowers virtually bloom by themselves!

If Your Soil Is Starved Of Trace Elements

Here's How New "Growth" Ingredient Goes To Work In Seconds!

ONE SPRINKLE GIVES TREES NEW LIFE. Both these orange trees are growing side by side in the exact same orchard. Yet three weeks before this photo was taken both trees were in the same sickly "yellow-leaved" condition. Both were given the exact same amount of sun and water. But tree on right was sprinkled with just 2 ounces of RX-15 . . . now available to gardeners for first time!

These 10-Foot Tomato Plants Grow In Sand! Note size of man in comparison. New science of gardening without soil called Hydropenics grow 1224 pounds of tomatoes in 4 basins of pure sand. These plants are fed with nothing but a few teaspoons of new fast-acting liquid plant foods.

These Roses Grow In Bottles Of Water! Thrive and bloom on nothing else but an occasional pinch of fast-acting plant foods of RX-15 type. This proves that RX-15 contains the life-giving minerals vital to healthy plant growth.

Have you ever wondered how some gardeners grow so many flowers with so little work even in undernourished soil? And why you can never grow many flowers no matter how carefully you plant your seeds, no matter how many expensive plant foods you feed your flowers, no matter how many hours you slave in your garden?

What's the answer? Believe it or not, you can feed your plants tons of fertilizers — you can enrich your soil with the best soil conditioners — you can give your garden all the sun and water it needs . . . and still YOU MAY BE STARVING YOUR PLANTS TO DEATH! How is it possible? Up to now, if your soil was deficient in either iron, copper, zinc or manganese it was extremely difficult to feed your plants all the elements vital to healthy growth. Did you ever try to eat a green, half-ripe apple? It has all the same vitamins and minerals of a delicious red, ripe apple—but you can't digest it! And for thousands of years science has known that there was absolutely NO complete fertilizer — no matter how rich in minerals—that could be properly absorbed by plants. There was absolutely no complete plant food or fertilizer that could guarantee to feed plants all the vital, life-giving minerals every plant needs for masses of bloom.

New Nutregene Process Increases Growing Power —Flowers Bloom Weeks Ahead of Your Neighbors*

Finally, after years of research, late in the summer of 1952, plant scientists at an American Agricultural Station discovered a new process which we call NUTREGENE* and actually changes the form of certain foods from inorganic to organic. Actually transforms them from a useless non-soluble lump of chemical to a rich soluble plant food that is absorbed by plants instantly. Simply dissolve RX-15 in water according to directions and merely sprinkle it on the leaves of your plants. The leaves absorb all the vital nitrogen, iron, manganese, copper, zinc and other minerals and elements the plant needs instantly! And they automatically shoot these life-giving nutrients to every nutrition-starved fibre of that plant!

So now is it any wonder why a tiny spoonful of RX-15 containing vital soil minerals and life-giving elements needed by plants —can make your roses, shrubs, fruit trees, lawns, bulbs, houseplants, produce bigger leaves, stems, branches — triples growing power of roots, leaves, flowers in 7 days or less!

Lindbergh's Son Risks Life to Discover Cave

MODESTO, Calif. (UP)—Jon Lindbergh, 20-year-old son of the international flying hero, emulated his father's lone eagle daring with a 150-foot underwater swim into what may be the largest water-filled cave in the west.

The handsome son of Charles A. Lindbergh, New York-to-Paris "Lone Eagle," donned a rubber "frogman's" suit and risked his life exploring the inky waters of the cave, located in the High Sierras. The young scientist said what he found was "fantastic."

The mouth of the cave opens into a small lake. But it is obstructed by a 150-foot limestone wall which drops 25 feet into the water. Lindbergh went down and under the wall to get to the underground lake.

Lindbergh said the lake was in a watersealed cavern which had a ceiling at least 50 feet high.

Airport Blast Kills Three In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—An air express parcel exploded Saturday in the Aernonaves de Mexico airline baggage room at Mazatlan airport and killed three persons. Three others were injured.

An inquiry was ordered immediately in the Pacific Coast resort city to determine whether the blast was sabotage. It happened just before noon while two employees were moving the package.

Civil aviation officials said they had not determined whether the packet contained a time bomb or an unfused explosive being shipped by air.

Mexican aviation officials have been edgy about sabotage since a time bomb blew out the side of a commercial airliner in flight several months ago. No one was killed in that incident. Two men are facing trial on charges that they planted the bomb with intent to collect insurance on passengers.

Wild Brawl Breaks Up First Sitting of Iran Parliament

TEHRAN (AP) — The first session of the Iranian parliament since early March broke up in wild disorder Sunday within five minutes of being called to order.

Amid the clamorous shouting of deputies and spectators, a new deputy whose credentials were rejected by Prime Minister Mossadegh's opponents was booted out the door.

Guards forced spectators out, but a 15-minute brawl ensued in the entrance hall between pro-and anti-Mossadegh groups. The session—long delayed by a withdrawal of Mossadegh's opponents from Tehran, preventing a quorum — had been expected to consider two major issues.

One was a measure interpreting the constitution to deprive the Shah of any claim to active command of the armed forces. This was the measure the opposition effectively blocked by preventing a quorum. The second was the proposed removal of parliamentary immunity from deputy Muzzafar Baghaei, the Labor Party leader whom the police accuse of inspiring and directing a plot to kidnap and murder national police chief Mahmoud Afshartus as the first step to wrecking the Mossadegh government.

Huge TV Audience

LONDON (Reuters) — At least 2,750,000 TV sets will be tuned in Britain Coronation Day, the British Radio Equipment Manufacturers' Association said today. A spokesman estimated that an average of eight persons will crowd around each set, making 22,000,000 viewers in the British Isles.

SINGAPORE (CP)—A hall built as a memorial to Mahatma Gandhi was opened here by Malcolm MacDonald, British commissioner-general for Southeast Asia. The foundation stone was laid by India's Prime Minister Hehru during a visit in April, 1950.

YORK DROPS EIGHT CENTS

Price of York Oil fell 8½ cents on Vancouver Stock Exchange this forenoon. Profit-taking after last week's spectacular rise from 30 cents to 60 is held largely responsible. At noon York was trading at 50; it began at 58.

National Exploration, the volume trader in the mining section, fell three cents to 71 at the noon-hour close.

Estella was up two at 48, Quatsino unchanged at 41, Western Tungsten down 10 at 2.30.

In the oils Calvan was 5.40, down five; Peace River Natural Gas $7.70, up five; United 1.18, off two; Del Rio 2.90 bid; Mill City 40 bid; Home 7.75 bid; Charter 1.75 bid.

Drifts Lower

TORONTO (CP)—Stock market prices drifted lower today toward the session's close despite a moderate show of strength by uraniums.

Western oils and base metals led the decline on the exchange's indices. The oil index slipped to the lowest level this year. Industrials posted a large majority of fractional declines. Golds showed little trend.

Speculative trading boosted selected uraniums for gains ranging to about 25 cents. Nesbitt-Labine, Baska, Radiore and Beaver Lodge pushed upward.

Selectively Up

NEW YORK (AP)—Industrials kept the stock market tilted forward today in extremely selective trading.

Most steels, motors, aircrafts, airlines, chemical and rubber company shares worked higher, but changes were generally minor. Retail firms, farm machinery producers and metal mining companies were irregularly lower.

Canadian stocks were mixed. Dome Mines dropped ⅛, Canadian Pacific ¼ and McIntyre ¾. International Nickel and Hiram Walker gained ⅛.

Fractionally Lower

MONTREAL (CP) — The stock market moved lower in afternoon trading today. Movements to the downside were fractional, but International Petroleum climbed 1⅞ points.

Papers, utilities, senior oils, steels and miscellaneous industrials had a majority of minus markets while carriers and banks picked up. Beverages and senior metals were mixed.

BUSINESS CAPSULE

By E. McLEAN, Times Business Editor

INVENTORY LEVEL IS NOT YET DANGEROUS

Though stocks of some items are piled up on retailers' shelves, the situation isn't yet dangerous and isn't likely to become so. That's the opinion of Peter Newman, writing

"There are no signs on the horizon to indicate inventories have reached a stage calling for any lay-offs at the manufacturing level. Right now, climbing inventories don't necessarily mean a danger signal for the enterprising retailer—just harder work."

Aligned with Newman's viewpoint are bullish predictions about the level of retail buying in the balance of this year. These estimates are founded in the facts employment in Canada is at an all-time high and average weekly earnings continue to climb. In December Canada's payrolls totalled $958,000,000, a 10.8 per cent gain over the previous December. Canadians have money—and they're spending it for the things they need and want.

And in the House of Commons the other day Agriculture Minister Gardiner said there's evidence the "satisfactory income position" of Canada's farmers will be maintained. Net farm income in 1952 was just under $2,000,000,000. Though this is a 10 per cent decline from 1951's total it is "quite satisfactory when viewed against average farm income of other recent years," Mr. Gardiner declared.

Can't Expand Without Immigrants

A substantial amount of immigration will be necessary if Canada's working force is to increase over the next 30 years at something like the same rate as in recent years.

Discussing "The Working Force in a Growing Economy," Bank of Nova Scotia's monthly review notes Canada's labor force has expanded by about 80,000 a year since the end of the war. Though substantial, this rate of growth is not spectacular; in fact, is smaller than during the twenties.

Low birthrate of the thirties has meant a relatively scanty number of young adults entering the labor market during the fifties. Entry of young Canadians in numbers will not come until the early sixties when the war and postwar babies will have become adults. "From the point of view of compensating for small numbers of native-born accessories to the working force, the whole decade of the fifties would seem a particulary propitious period for immigration," Bank of Nova Scotia's review concludes.

$664,000,000 IN WAGES

Canadian workmen's pockets have been lined with $664,000,000 in wages because Henry Ford had a dream and made it come true. Rhys M. Sale, Ford of Canada president, addressing the company shareholders' annual meeting, said that in the half-century since its founding August 17, 1903, Ford of Canada paid out $664,000,000 in salaries and wages. Current wage bill is $1,000,000 per week; in 1903 it was $230. Wages represent one-seventh of cumulative total of sales by Ford of Canada and its subsidiaries.

Canadian Westinghouse Company, Hamilton, Ont., also is nearing its 50th birthday. President H. H. Rogge recalled this week the organization began in a single small factory with 90 employees. "Today we have 10 major manufacturing buildings, in four different cities more than 11,000 employees, and our annual payroll totals more than $36,000,000."

NEW PRESIDENT of Pacific Northwest Newspaper Advertising Executives Association is John Lecky of Vancouver Sun (above). Also elected were A. D. Addisson, Herald and News, Glamath Falls, Ore., vice-president, and Deck Bell, World, Wenatchee, secretary-treasurer. Al. Brock of Seattle PI was added to the board of governors.

Cabinet Can't Change Contract Distribution

BY VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Representative

OTTAWA—Complaints about concentration of defense production contracts in the central provinces voiced in parliament by Howard Green (PC-Vancouver-Quadra) have brought replies from Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of defense production.

Mr. Green criticized awarding of contracts for army wooden pallets to eastern firms only. He also protested contracts for Kindor fittings for the navy.

Mr. Green said it was his understanding the pallets were for army use in storerooms and stockrooms. Goods piled on the wooden pallets were moved from place to place more easily.

The specifications called for hardwood which meant that firms in British Columbia and on the prairies could not compete. West-coast companies contended softwood could be used just as well.

Mr. Howe replied that the question of pallets came to his attention two years ago when the government had an order to be delivered on the west coast.

TWICE THE PRICE

"To my horor I found they were being made in Toronto and the price delivered on the west coast was about twice what it would be for the same article made in Vancouver. I inquired, and found the army insisted upon hardwood pallets. Hardwood is not indigenous to the west coast."

The minister said he had taken up the matter every time an order came through but the army still insisted the pallets be made of hardwood.

Army authorities argued that softwood splintered too easily and would not stand up to service.

"The decision of the user is final. Unless the army can be persuaded to change its mind about hardwood pallets we must buy according to the specifications submitted," said Mr. Howe.

Discussing navy contracts, Mr. Green said orders were placed for Kindor fittings in Montreal by what is called the "lead yard." Vickers, the lead yard, placed an order for the fittings which were to be installed in vessels on the west coast, he said.

The Vancouver agents for Kindor fittings lost out on the business because the order went through Montreal. The price to the government would have been exactly the same if it had been ordered through the Vancouver agents, said Mr. Green.

He suggested some system be worked out whereby goods of that kind could be purchased from business people on the west coast.

MANUFACTURER BLAMED

Mr. Howe replied: "I am told that in this particular case the Kindor people themselves did not wish to use their agents who handled civilian work. They have representatives in Montreal who handle naval work exclusively and they insisted that the business be put through those representatives."

Mr. Green: "What is the policy of the department with regard to having goods of that type purchased where the ships are to be built?"

Mr. Howe: "We try to do that. Our policy is to buy as cheaply as possible. While there may be some hope of persuading the army to use softwood pallets I do not think theer is much hope of persuading the navy to use anything that is not according to naval tradition."

SHELL OIL COMPANY OF CANADA, LIMITED ANNOUNCES THE GREATEST GASOLINE DEVELOPMENT IN 31 YEARS

Up to 15% more power, more mileage and up to 150% longer spark plug life promised by Shell-discovered additive T.C.P.*

Soon to be added to Shell Premium Gasoline and offered nation-wide.

Soon the Canadian motorist will be able to fuel his car with a gasoline containing an extraordinary ingredient which up to the present time has been largely restricted to military aircraft use.

Called T.C.P., this new ingredient is what chemists describe as an additive.. T.C.P. for the first time, puts a halt to the major cause of power loss in today's high compression engine. It boosts power as much as 15%. Mileage and spark plug life are also increased.

Trademark
* Patent applied for.

T.C.P. achieves this beneficial result by rendering harmless certain metallic deposits on spark plugs and other deposits in combustion chambers. Until the advent of T.C.P., these deposits caused faulty spark plug operation, especially when the engine was accelerating.

They also caused pre-ignition of the combustion mixture, resulting in both power and fuel waste.

By counteracting the power-wasting effects of these deposits, new engines are able to retain their "new power" performance longer. Older cars take on new life.

T.C.P. is another example of Shell's continuing fuel research. And only Shell Premium will have it . . . the most significant advance since the discovery of tetra ethyl lead in 1922.

Distribution of Shell Premium Gasoline with T.C.P. to the Shell Dealer organization is well under way at present and will be completed as rapidly as facilities permit.

HERO EXCEPT TO HIMSELF

'United States' Skipper Retires

NEW YORK (UP)—A 20th century saga of the sea ended this week. Commodore Harry Manning retired at 56 to a landlubber's life.

He retired to write and lecture about his 40 years at sea. If, for this task his memory needs jogging, he can thumb through the front pages since 1929.

From 1929, when he was ticker-taped up Broadway after a sea rescue for which he got the Congressional Medal of Honor, to last summer, when he skippered the superliner United States to new trans-Atlantic speed records, he has been a frequent front-page celebrity—always to his own embarrassment.

A gruff, outspoken man, who neither smokes nor drinks, he is publicity-shy. For years he refused press interviews. But he became a hero many times over—and in his spare time became a linguist, a boxer good enough to spar with Benny Leonard, an airplane pilot, a radio operator, a Shakespearean student, and a pianist.

Harry Manning began on a sailing ship. At 31, he got his first ship command.

He was chief officer of the old America, in 1929, when he commanded a 30-foot lifeboat in a three-hour fight through sleet, darkness and mountainous seas in a whole gale to rescue 32 men from the sinking Italian freighter Florida.

For that, he got, besides the Congressional Medal, the keys to the City of New York and a decoration from Italy.

RECUES FLIER

Three years later he commanded the lifeboat that rescued trans-Atlantic flier Lou Reichers, forced down in heavy seas.

He had qualified for a pilot's license in 1930. On Christmas Eve, 1934, his private plane was 3,000 feet over Roosevelt Field when its propeller split. He glided the plane to a safe landing, rather than parachute out and chance the plane's striking a house.

In 1937, he was navigator for Amelia Earhart on her first attempt to fly around the world. They cracked up in Honolulu, and Manning had to return to his ship before Miss Earhart's second attempt, on which she was lost.

In 1938, as Manning was landing his small plane it went into a spin and crashed, fracturing his skull, both legs, and jaw. He got out of the hospital in time to become a skipper in the early days of Second World War.

He was master of the liner Washington in 1940, carrying 1,020 American refugees from Europe, when a German submarine one night halted the ship and signaled its intention of sinking it. While the passengers were being put into lifeboats, Manning began a rapid-fire argument by blinker. He won—mainly because he argued until it got light enough for the submarine captain to see that it was an American ship. The sub apologized and left.

IN HAIL OF BOMBS

When the U.S. entered the war, Manning, who held a naval reserve commission, stayed with the Washington as navigator. He helped get her out of Singapore one night under a hail of Japanese bombs.

It was almost an anti-climax when he closed out his career last July by bringing the Blue Ribbon for Atlantic crossing back to this country. Under his guidance the superliner United States sped to Europe in three days, 10 hours and 40 minutes—averaging better than 40 land miles an hour.

Driving Rains, Fog, Halt Most Air, Ground War

SEOUL (AP) — Driving rain and fog halted most air and ground action today after 39 B-29 Superforts smashed with 500-pound bombs a huge 1,000-building Communist supply centre deep in northwest Korea.

Allied infantry huddled in bunkers as spring rains pelted the muddy 155-mile battle front.

The only planes off for North Korea were weather reconnaissance craft, the air force said.

Toronto Tot Suffocates In Neighbor's Ice Box

TORONTO (CP) — Nancy Clayton, three and one-half, of suburban North York, was found dead in an ice box Sunday.

The tiny, blonde girl was reported missing by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Clayton, Saturday evening. Mr. Clayton is a Toronto police constable.

Police said the youngster apparently wandered down the street from her home and began playing around an ice box standing in front of the home of J. D. Barker.

The ice box was to be shipped to Mr. Barker's summer cottage in Northern Ontario and had been placed on the street to await pickup by a trucker.

The little girl apparently locked herself in the ice box.

BRITISH NAVAL HERO CAUGHT SAILING UNDER JOLLY ROGER

LONDON (AP)—Britain's greatest naval hero gazed over London disguised as a pirate.

During the night a practical joker shinnied 184 feet up Nelson's Column, one of London's most famous landmarks, and daubed a pirate's skull and crossbones on the head of Admiral Horatio Nelson, whose statue surmounts the tall black column.

Workmen, engaged in slicking up the Trafalgar Square monument for the Coronation, had left a black cloth wrapped round Nelson's head. The joker used white paint to turn this cloth into a pirate's flag.

At Father Flanagan's famous Boys Town, Chlorodent proves twice as effective!

Now—Dental Journal reports:

Chlorodent—in 60 days—brought new mouth health to 158 children at Boys Town

In the first major research on chlorophyll* toothpaste, dentists at famous Boys Town, Neb., discovered that Chlorodent brings "striking" improvement in mouth health.

The dramatic Boys Town study of gingivitis—a wide-spread mouth disorder—proves that Chlorodent can bring healthier mouths to millions!

Boys Town co-operated in this research wholly in the interest of child health. Over 400 boys took part. Most of them had gingivitis. One group brushed their teeth only with Chlorodent. A similar group used only a fine white toothpaste.

Results of this research appear in The Journal of Periodontology: In just two months, 78% of the boys using Chlorodent showed dramatic improvement in mouth health. Chlorodent was proved twice as effective as the white toothpaste for quickly reducing gingivitis!

Chlorodent destroys mouth odors.

Scientists found Chlorodent's special chlorophyll formula kept twice as many people free from mouth odors for up to four hours! Too, Chlorodent fights tooth decay, keeps teeth cleanest. See your dentist if mouth troubles persist. Use Chlorodent regularly. Buy it to-day.

Trophies From Governor Massey's Hands Final Drama Festival Thrill

Presentation of major trophies by Governor-General Vincent Massey, was highlight of final luncheon of Dominion Drama Festival week at Empress Hotel, Sunday. Celebrating her birthday by taking Nella Jefferis Trophy as best actress, was Andree Cunningham, Ottawa, left, who receives congratulations of the Governor-General on her performance as "Constance" in Saturday Players' presentation of "The Madwoman of Chaillot." Overjoyed at their three wins are trio from Montreal's La Jeune Scene group, centre. Their production, "Zone," took Calvert Trophy, as best in festival. Robert Rivard, director, and winner of Henry Osborne Challenge Trophy for his performance of cowardly young man, and Marcel Dube, award-winning author of "Zone," who also played in it, are congratulated affectionately by Monique Miller, only girl in cast. At right, camera catches Pierre Lefevre, the week's popular adjudicator, bestowing a kiss of congratulations and farewell on charming Andree Cunningham, while Ruth Addleman, winner of Saturday Night Plaque for best supporting actress, looks on. Miss Addleman played "Irma," in "The Madwoman of Chaillot," earlier in the week. (Times Photos by Bill Halkett.)

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

There is nothing quite like renting a summer cottage to give your wife a happy vacation.

Wives just love getting away from the mundane household chores and taking the kiddies to a summer cottage miles from the pavements, smoke and dirt of the city, where they are never bothered by telephone calls or vacuum cleaner salesmen, or even vacuum cleaners.

It is the plain duty of every husband to remove his wife from her customary duties during the summer, and give her a complete change.

The above irrefutable logic having convinced you to rent a summer cottage, I will give you a few hints on what to look for.

In the first place, be sure the view from your summer cottage is entirely different than the one which faces your wife every day in the year.

If, for instance, you live on Dallas Road, every day your wife is faced with the same monotonous outlook on sea and mountains and ships plodding wearily up and down.

Choose a summer cottage well hidden in the depths of a pine forest. During the evenings when you are toiling in the city, she can have fun imagining savages behind each tree trunk.

It is most important to give your wife relief from the daily routine of working in the kitchen.

Of course, she will have to spend a little time in the kitchen, even at the summer cottage, but you can compensate for this by being sure her surroundings are completely different.

During her city life, she must become very bored with seeing the same old automatic stove, refrigerator, washing machine, and enamelled sink every day.

Give her something new to think about in her cottage kitchen, such as a large wood stove and a small supply of green wood.

One of the great troubles wives have in the city is with electric fuses.

Fuses are forever blowing out, leaving wives in the awkward position of telephoning the hardware store.

You can eliminate fuse trouble at your summer cottage by eliminating electricity.

For this thoughtful act, your wife will call down blessings on your name, especially when she is (a) lighting the coal oil lamps or (b) attempting to clean them.

Be sure your wife has a cottage with proper ventilation. Avoid cottages with sound roofs, windows which close, and doors which fit the door frame.

A little rain in the face is much better than lack of fresh air.

There are many more factors to be considered when choosing a summer cottage in which your wife will experience a complete change from her humdrum city existence.

But I will mention only one of these; the location of the er-ah facilities. The er-ah facilities should be at least 200 yards away from the cottage, reached by a narrow path winding through the forest.

There is nothing a wife enjoys more than a stroll through the forest in the middle of the night, holding junior by one hand and a flickering flashlight in the other.

I realize husbands who give their wives the joy of a summer in a cottage must make great sacrifices, such as sleeping in the same old bed, eating the same old steaks cooked on the same old electric stove, and piling the same old dirty dishes in the same old sink.

But nothing is too good for the little woman, is it?

Merchants to Fight Chain Store Control

No City Aid for Gallery

Arts Centre Seeks Garden Assistance

Greater Victoria Arts Centre will have to operate without financial assistance from the City of Victoria.

This was clearly indicated at a City Council finance committee meeting today when a letter from the centre requesting the city maintain the gardens of the centre at 1040 Moss Street was received and filed.

The arts centre stated the city, under original arrangements, agreed to look after the gardens.

HELPED AT FIRST

Several hundred dollars were spent by the parks department at the outset, but nothing has been done since. The centre says the gardens are falling into disrepair.

City Solicitor Arthur Patton commented: It's a Greater Victoria thing but only the city has seen fit to do anything. That ends the matter."

"It's finished," said Mayor Claude Harrison.

"What about the taxes?" asked Ald. Frank Mulliner.

"The property does not belong to the city of Victoria," replied City Manager Cecil Wyatt.

It is understood no taxes have been paid on the property since the Greater Victoria Arts Centre received the property and home from Miss Sara Spencer in 1951.

The city by a vote of 6-4 agreed to accept title to the home for a civic gallery Sept. 6, 1951.

It has never accepted title however. Attempts were made to have the home turned over to a board of trustees comprising all municipalities. This failed. The city did not want to be sole owner. Other municipalities felt they could not assist financially. The matter has hung fire since then, with the arts centre periodically requesting the city to implement its September 1951 vote.

Abandoned Tombstone Offers Puzzle

Who was John Greenwood and where does he lie? Those are questions which have come to the minds of many waterfront walkers who have spied his tombstone in a pile of rubble at Clover Point. Most of the stones and rocks in the pile are from the recently-demolished Central Junior High School. Where the tombstone came from, nobody knows. Its inscription: "In Loving Memory of John Greenwood, born May 2, 1878, died July 2, 1951." Obituary files reveal no such person dying here on that date. Possible explanation offered by some is that stone was a mason's practice tablet or mistake. (Times Photo.)

City Hears Protest On 6-Day Store Week

Institution of a six-day business week requested of the city by two unions was protested by a delegation of eight butcher store operators before City Council's executive committee today.

Both the Victoria Retail Clerks' Union and the Amalgamated Meat Cutters' Union wrote the city urging a five-day work week for employees with a six-day business operation.

The meat cutters stated they had negotiated an agreement calling for a five-day week with their employers, but that it could not be implemented except on a six-day store operation.

Ald. William Pinfold felt employees in order to get a five-day week were trying to "force a six-day week on employers."

Some large stores, it is understood do not object to a six-day store operation.

Smaller stores and individual butchers, however, contend the extra half-day's business would not warrant the necessary increase in staff.

Jack Stuart, spokesman for the butcher operators' delegation said the group was opposed to any change in the present five-and-a-half-day business week.

He said if employees were given the five-day week, there should be a five-day business week for operators.

City Manager Cecil Wyatt felt the city was being put in the position of a "bargaining agent between employers and employees." Ald. Pinfold agreed.

The delegation was asked to present a joint brief to the committee on its proposals.

16,000 Pack Products Fair On Final Day

All-Time Record For Attendance

Sixteen thousand persons packed the B.C. Products Fair Saturday, many of them remaining late into the evening to see the crowning of Miss Victoria of 1953.

She is Miss Eleanor Anderson, 2500 Blackwood Street, an 18-year-old civil servant.

Popular ballot picked Miss Anderson from a panel of ten contestants. Named Miss B.C. Products Fair, she automatically assumes the honor of being Miss Victoria. She will compete as Miss Victoria for top B.C. honors at the Pacific National Exhibition next fall.

Named as princesses were the two runners-up in the balloting, Miss Shirley Williams and Miss Mildred Lange. Each wins a wrist watch.

Miss Anderson was awarded a black mink coat, $100 cash and other prizes.

NEW CAR WON

Biggest prize of the fair went to door ticket winner Miss Rosemary Crawford, 19, 1314 Manor Road. She won a new car.

Fair attendance which set new records Thursday, then broke them the following two days, reached an all-time high of 62,036. There were from 3,000 to 5,000 more fairgoers every day this year than last year. The 1952 total attendance was 33,325.

Fair director, Lorrace Kirk, announced Saturday night that ". . . next year's show will be even bigger and better."

Fair-Haired Fair Queen

Crowned Queen of B.C. Products Fair at close of week-long exhibition at Memorial Arena Saturday night, fair-haired Eleanor Anderson enjoyed second "coronation" when she arrived at work today. Fellow employees at B.C. Liquor Board offices placed paper crown on pretty queen's head, and the 18-year-old miss resumed her typing. Thrilled at winning fair contest, Queen Eleanor will represent city in Miss Pacific National Exhibition contest in Vancouver later in the year.

Independents See Monopoly Danger In Tobacco Trade

Independent merchants of Victoria will hold a mass meeting Thursday night in an effort to end chain-store price-cutting on cigarettes.

Their campaign is aimed at federal legislation which at present allegedly tolerates chain store slashing of prices to a point where there is little profit remaining.

Speaking will be H. B. McKelvie, Vancouver secretary of the B.C. Tobacco and Candy Jobbers' Association, and city retailer, Aubrey Kent. Meeting will be at 8 p.m. at the Hard-of-Hearing Hall.

President of the Independent Merchants' Co-operative Association, W. Palmer, says 428 small dealers want retail prices of goods to be set by the manufacturer.

"Ottawa is our main enemy," he added. "The government directs legislation to suit monopolies."

He called on consumers to deal solely with the independent merchants, reasoning that ". . . with the blessing of the present Dominion government, cigarettes and other items of daily usage will soon end up in the hands of a few large chains.

ELIMINATION AIM

"When they have eliminated their weaker, independent competitors, they will raise their prices to a profitable basis or use lower prices to force lower wages on their employees," he warned.

He suggested that a chaotic condition in the distribution of cigarettes might lead to a government monopoly, ". . . as we have in the case of liquor, due to the prevalent Socialist tendencies of all governments."

Main complaint of the small dealers is that they must pay 29.01 cents for cigarettes which they must sell for 31 cents to compete with chain stores.

Guest speaker Mr. McKelvie, who is recently returned from Ottawa, will explain the workings of the Combines Investigation Board.

Mr. Kent will report on correspondence he has had on the matter of price-fixing with federal cabinet minister Hon. James Gardiner.

Hatchets Among Strange Loot of Week-End Raiders

A box filled with hatchets and $90 worth of heavy twine comprised the odd assortment of loot thieves took from a break-in at Snow Packing House, Ogden Point, over the week-end.

The thieves made several unsuccessful attempts to get into the building, smashing windows until they were able to lift out an insecure sash and cut away some barbed wire protecting it.

While occupants of the home of Mrs. Molly Rosenstock, 1411 Harrison, slept Sunday, a burglar ransacked the place and stole $44.

Mrs. Rosenstock's purse was picked up from beside her bed.

In the next apartment, that of Alfred Halversen and his family, $40 was taken from a dresser drawer.

Government Sets Coronation Day Decoration Lead

The provincial cabinet has approved expenditure of $15,000 for decoration.

The government has purchased 30 framed reproductions of a portrait of Queen Elizabeth which will be placed in court houses and government agencies.

The portrait was done in England by Margaret Lindsay Williams, who is considered Britain's greatest living painter of royalty.

WHY GROW OLD?

3 Measurements Taken For Correct Corset Fit

The girdle or corset and the brassieres a woman wears are of the greatest importance to her appearance, comfort and health. However, many women who choose their dresses and suits, and hats and accessories carefully, give little attention to the style undergarment they buy or to the way it fits.

I do not believe the average woman realizes what great variety is available to her today. Manufacturers have taken all of the figure irregularities to which women fall heir into consideration in their designs. In order to help you select the best garment for you individually I am going to bring you some facts you may not know for the next few days.

When fitting a girdle one should take three measurements; the waist, the fullest part of the hips which is usually about eight inches below the waist, and the length from the waist to the thigh. If the difference between the waist and hip measurements is less than eight inches the woman is classed as "the straight hip type." A difference of from eight to 10 inches is considered normal and 11 inches or over is considered a "full hip."

Manufacturers have taken these differences into consideration so that a garment with a waist measurement of 30 inches, for instance, comes in three hip developments. Therefore you would not just buy a size 30 without going over the hips with a tape measure.

The Corset and Brassiere Association of America has divided the feminine form into three classifications: junior, average, full. A junior may be a teenager or she may be an adult who has a youthful figure, namely, high firm busts, a small waist and hips which are in proportion to the waist measurement. This garment is planned for this type, the type with firm flesh and good muscles.

The average figure is more fully developed, with a tendency toward rolls at the waist and weight on the thighs.

The fuller figure is just as it sounds, undefined waistline with hips and thighs and abdomen inclined to weight. If the need for this size comes from a large bony structure, rather than from too much weight, you can wear a light weight garment of this category.

Here's a new way of cooking prunes which gives them a very exotic flavor. Rinse one pound of prunes and soak overnight in a quart of strong tea. Add a piece of orange peel and a stick of cinnamon. Boil gently about 25 minutes, add a quarter cup granulated sugar and cook five minutes longer. Very tasty.

Even School Children Should Help at Home

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Mothers of today are far too prone to do things for their children and to require little in return from them. Then when the children become teenagers parents wonder why they are so unco-operative at home. That is the complaint of this mother:

Hurlock

Q.—"I have three children, ranging in age from six to 14 years. I never expect my children to do anything around the house during the week because they have their school work and the older ones have homework too. But if I ask them to help with the housework over the week-ends, they are likely to have an excuse or they work very grudgingly, or they do it so badly that I find it little help. Am I being unreasonable by asking them to help me over the week-ends?"

A.—Even if you employed servants to do your housework, you should expect some help from your children with the duties of the home. But if you do the work yourself you may expect them to help you even during the week when they are at school.

No child has such long hours in school and so much homework that he cannot devote a few minutes to helping at home. This should be a part of his daily routine. Over the week-ends and at holiday periods he should take on additional responsibilities.

Many of the protests of children against helping at home can be eliminated by letting the children choose the jobs they want to do instead of assigning them. It gives a feeling of sharing if they choose which is not present otherwise.

Don't expect perfect results from a child. If your children do their jobs reasonably well be satisfied. Show them how they can improve their workmanship and give them chance to practice. Only when you have evidence that their poor workmanship is a symptom of revolt should you show disapproval. Under other conditions be appreciative.

If you have a personal problem, write Elizabeth Hurlock in care of this newspaper.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

By EDWIN JORDAN, MD

Best Sleeping Position Is Most Comfortable One

Nearly one-third of an average lifetime is spent in sleeping, so it is not surprising that questions concerning sleep come in from time to time, though some of them are almost impossible to answer.

Q.—What is the proper way to sleep? I usually sleep on my right side. I cannot sleep on my back simply because someone told me this brings on nightmares. Sometimes I sleep on my stomach. Is this good or bad? I also sleep curled up, especially in the cold weather. —M.A.R.

A.—The best position to take when going to sleep is that which is most comfortable. It doesn't matter to health whether one sleeps on the back, side or stomach, curled up or straight out. The position is changed during sleep and over that change in position, of course, one has no control.

Q.—My husband visited a physician for rectal trouble and was told to avoid roughage. Would you give me a general idea of what foods to avoid?—Mrs. I.P.

A.—The doctor should have told your husband himself, since not everyone can choose a satisfactory diet under such circumstances. In general, roughage includes any foods which have heavy bulk which is not absorbed into the body, such as bran, spinach and many other foods of a similar nature. Your husband should get a diet list from his physician.

Q.—Will a rectal fissure which is not corrected by an operation turn cancerous? —R.W.

A.—It will not turn cancerous in all probability, but it will also not get well in all probability.

Q.—Why does a little child's head perspire so freely when she sleeps? Is this harmful? —Mrs. V.N.M.

A.—The chances are that the child is too heavily covered. Heavy perspiration around the head, particularly with the windows open, may lessen the youngster's resistance and predispose her to colds or other infections.

Q.—I am 50 years old and a bricklayer and I would like to know what causes the third finger of my left hand to become numb. It cannot stand cold, turns a dead color, and has no feeling, even when warm. My two big toes are beginning to feel the same way.—W.J.R.

A.—There are several possible reasons for this and you should waste no time in being examined to determine the cause and what can be done for it.

Young Man Convicted For Attempted Theft

Dennis Kilpatrick, 21, of 514 Dallas, who broke into a store to take back clothing he had sold to a secondhand clothing dealer, was found guilty in city police court Friday of breaking and entering with intent to commit theft.

Magistrate H. C. Hall remanded Kilpatrick to May 12 for sentence. He requested a probation officer's report on accused. Prosecutor Alan E. Bigelow reported the young man had one previous conviction for theft.

Evidence was that accused had used a rock to smash the front door window of the Bazaar at 1317 Broad Street at 1.30 a.m. May 2, the noise resulting in a citizen telephoning police.

Accused was found hiding in the store.

English Essential Subject, Authors Told

Referring to the report of Scottish education written by Principal Fife, of Aberdeen University, Albert Sullivan, addressing the Canadian Authors' Association at the Arts Centre, Friday, quoted Mr. Fife's statement, "To fail in Latin or mathematics is to be deficient in these subjects, but to fail in written or spoken English is to be fundamentally uneducated."

Mr. Sullivan read passages of beauty from Rachel Carson's book, "The Sea Around Us," stressing the magic and mystery of the sea. He also quoted from Ben Johnson, Shakespeare, Byron, Shelley, Keats, Dickens, Scott, Addison, Victor Hugo and other classical authors.

IN KOREA (CP)—Immediate award of the Military Cross to two Canadian officers and of the Military Medal to two soldiers was announced Saturday by Maj.-Gen. Michael West, commander of the Commonwealth division.

The Military Medal was awarded Cpl. J. C. McNeil of Reserve Mine, N.S., and Pte. George Julien of Halifax.

Election Certified By IWA Committee

VANCOUVER (BUP) — The quarterly committee of the International Woodworkers of America (CIO-CCL) Saturday night announced that it had certified the election of officers as announced by the tabulating committee Friday.

Officers elected were Joe Morris, president; William Gray, Stewart Hodgson and Fred Fieber as first, second and third vice-presidents; George H. Mitchell as district secretary-treasurer and Howard Webb as trustee.

Mitchell said the quarterly committee found no irregularities in the ballot count report. J. Stewart Alsbury, defeated IWA president, had said he would protest "irregularities" in tabulation.

Cast Unshaken By Dark Stage, Bounding Dog

DUNCAN — Overloaded electrical circuits which caused fuses to blow and a mascot dog that decided in the middle of the third act it was time he showed his affection for the players, didn't throw Lancaster Theatre Company's premiere performance off balance here Saturday.

The company, made up of former associates of the York Theatre, romped through the comedy, "Lover's Leap," for an audience of about 300 at Cowichan High School.

Director Ian Thorne proved popular for his performance as the country gentleman not too sure whether he should enter into marriage with young Sarah, played by Doris Sheridan.

Amusing situations arose between Monica Dudley, playing Helen Storer, and Dewey Harless, cast as her Egyptologist husband.

The unscheduled appearance of the chow dog, Hassan, delighted the audience.

The Lancaster troupe will present the show tonight at Sooke Community Hall.

Australia Senate Vote May Indicate Political Trend

MELBOURNE (Reuters)—Australians voted Saturday to refill half the Senate seats in an election which will test whether the country favors sticking with private enterprise or reverting to postwar socialism.

The Lower House is not due for election until next year.

Prime Minister Robert Menzies' Coalition government now holds 32 against the Labor party's 28. Of the seats up for polling today, 16 are Coalition and 16 Labor.

Final results may not be known for two weeks with many overseas votes to come in and a complex system of proportional representation in operation.

A Chrome Spun Story

There is good reason to believe that you have developed a certain resistance to the belligerent copy one usually finds in Ads peddling chrome suites. We much prefer the "casual candor" approach, because we sometimes think the word "Bargain" has lost its meaning. In view of this we're going to try & sell you on this "Symphony" chrome suite, with more the easy-paced tempo, & though not actually subtle, we hope has the ring of friendly truth. If we can just get over to you friendliness, warmth, & candid honesty, then we know you will be interested enuff to come down & see what the frivolous headline of this story is all about.

Not wanting to be guilty of exaggerated statement, we do want to say this suite is REALLY an eye-opener. I guess you could go a little "arty" about it too, and call it a "Symphony," altho there is no "flautist" to gum up the whole act. The chairs curve round your back something like the bumpers on the new [illegible] r Airfoam sponges up your spine. One suite we just looked over is in apple-green, the other in all grey, and either could double as kitchen-living room chromefits. Guess we end on a low note . . . this whole presentation costs less than a new suit & cost [illegible] 9 on beautiful terms) & could last you forever. Come in & be the ajudicator.

BRIDGE LESSON

By Oswald Jacoby

"This hand proves that virtue doesn't always triumph," writes Alfred Schechter of Pleasantville, N.Y.

"West opened the deuce of clubs, and I put up the ace at once and dropped the jack from my hand. I felt sure that the opening lead was a singleton and hoped to gain something by my false card.

"East took the first round of trumps with the ace, naturally enough, and sniffed in my direction as he laid down the king of clubs. He then led another club for his partner to ruff, after which I needed the rest of the tricks.

"West got out with the eight of hearts and I had to make a decision. If East had both of the red kings, there was no way to make the contract. If the red kings were split, surely West would lead the suit in which he did not hold the king. If West had both red kings it was not necessary to take the finesse.

"I therefore took the trick with dummy's ace of hearts, drew the last trump with dummy's ten, and discarded the queen and jack of hearts on dummy's remaining clubs.

"I then ran the rest of my trumps, squeezing West. When I led my last trump, West had the king of hearts and two diamonds, with dummy discarding behind him. He chose to blank his king of diamonds, so I threw dummy's heart and took the last two tricks with the ace and queen of diamonds.

"I felt both brilliant and virtuous until I opened up the traveling score slip (the hand was played in a club duplicate game.) Everybody had made four spades by the simple device of taking the heart finesse."

It's sad but true that the expert way of playing a hand isn't always necessary. Some very simple line of play may be equally successful. Nevertheless it still pays to know all the tricks because the simple little devices don't always work, and then the expert method pays off.

IN TUNE WITH THE TIMES

BY RAY SIDAWAY

Shakespeare's mighty drama of love, jealousy and murder—"Othello"—reaches its exciting climax and conclusion on tonight's edition of "Suspense," with Richard Widmark, Cathy Lewis and Elliott Lewis co-starring in the unusual, two-part radio adaptation. A narrator, Canada's Larry Thor, will quickly summarize Part I, presented last week, before Part II begins. The thriller will be heard on KIRO at 9.

Part II opens as Othello returns triumphant from the wars to govern the Island of Cyprus with his lovely bride, Desdemona (Cathy Lewis). However, the scheming Iago (Widmark, naturally)—jealous because he has been passed over in military promotions—is plotting Othello's destruction, as well as the death of Othello's trusted lieutenant, Cassio.

Iago's nasty little plan is to frame evidence of a love affair between Othello's bride and Cassio. He feels sure Othello can be inflamed to kill them both, and then will be held to answer for the murders—thereby eliminating all who stand between Iago and his ambitions.

Skilfully, he plays upon Othello's imagination to plant the seeds of distrust and jealousy—seeming always to impart his poisonous misinformation with the greatest reluctance.

The play moves to its climax as Othello finally confronts his wife with accusations of infidelity and announces that he intends to kill her.

Jose Iturbi, pianist, will be guest soloist on "The Telephone Hour" tonight on KOMO at 6.30.

Accompanied by the Bell Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Donald Voorhees, Iturbi will offer music by Chopin and Liszt.

Dorothy Kirsten will co-star with Gordon MacRae in "Rosalinda," a musical story of a romantic masquerade, during "The Railroad Hour" broadcast tonight on KOMO at 9.30.

MacRae plays the husband, Henry Eisenstein, who arranges with his lawyer for an imaginary jail sentence as an excuse for his absence while he attends a grand ball, where he pretends to be a bachelor. A maid overhears the two plotting and tells her mistress (Miss Kirsten), who decides to go to the same ball.

Husband and wife, in masquerade, meet and fall in love, with all ending happily when their true identities are revealed.

MANY MORE TO CHOOSE

As our contribution to safety this is what we're doing. We'll credit you with $100 on any old car that runs on four wheels with current license plate on the purchase now or later of a new or used car. Sure we sell lots of good used cars this way, that's true, but do you know what we do with these old jalopies, we burn them, smash them to smithereens. For safer highways somebody's got to get this junk off the road, so bring in your old jalopies.

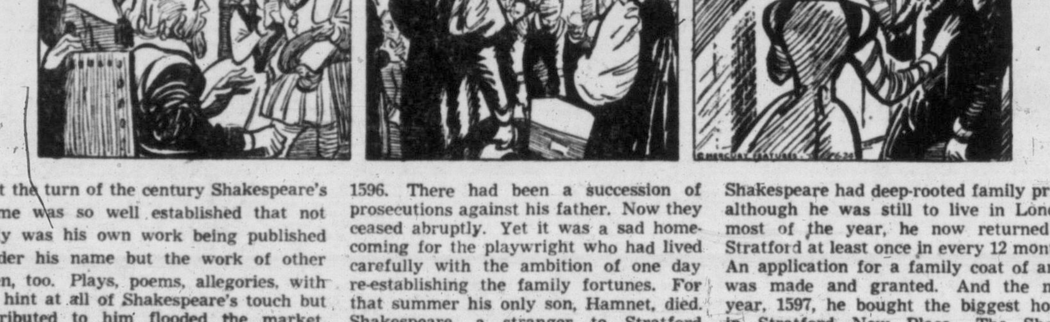
AN AGE OF GREATNESS

No. 109—The Sad Homecoming



But the turn of the century Shakespeare's name was so well established that not only was his own work being published under his name but the work of other men, too. Plays, poems, allegories, with no hint at all of Shakespeare's touch but attributed to him flooded the market. Meanwhile, Shakespeare, the man of success, returned home for the first time in 1596. There had been a succession of prosecutions against his father. Now they ceased abruptly. Yet it was a sad homecoming for the playwright who had lived carefully with the ambition of one day re-establishing the family fortunes. For that summer his only son, Hamnet, died. Shakespeare, a stranger to Stratford Church for 11 long years, went there to bury the boy he had scarcely known. Shakespeare had deep-rooted family pride, although he was still to live in London most of the year, he now returned to Stratford at least once in every 12 months. An application for a family coat of arms was made and granted. And the next year, 1597, he bought the biggest house in Stratford—New Place. The Shakespeares were locally important again.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1953

Aries (March 21 to April 19)—That dispute over finances, possessions which has been simmering at home for a long time should be settled today. Bills and odds and ends can be attended to afterwards.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20)—A good day to get away from home early. You will have chance to talk over and end disagreements with business contacts, neighbors, relatives.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21)—Put affairs concerning property in order. Use your nimble brain to make long-range decisions for concluding financial deals.

Cancer (June 22 to July 21)—You have excellent plans, but to make them effective you will have to get out of your rut. Use your initiative, energy. Act!

Leo (July 22 to August 21)—Keep away from persons of rank and authority today. Get away by yourself; make quiet plans for simplifying your affairs for greater efficiency.

Virgo (August 22 to September 22)—A good day for you, but you must stop dwelling upon limitations. Get out; make new contacts. See everyone you can and obtain viewpoints about your present job.

Libra (September 23 to October 22)—Today brings an opportunity to fulfill your desires with the help of a dynamic, noisy person of considerable power and influence. Listen carefully. Avoid gossip carriers.

Scorpio (October 23 to November 21)—Keep out of path of irritated authority. Message from a distance reveals undreamed-of benefits which can be yours for the taking. P.M., investigate up-to-date methods.

Sagittarius (November 22 to December 21)—Opportunity to save money on all purchases, from wardrobe to pet food, presents itself. Seize it. Hang on to present job.

Capricorn (December 22 to January 20)—An unexpected opportunity to bring your ability to the attention of others comes from unusual associate. Accept suggested benefits without dipping into own funds.

Aquarius (January 21 to February 19)—You will have to give your all to your job today in order to get lined up for the future. No shirking. Keep your plans strictly confidential. Work hard!

Pisces (February 20 to March 20)—A lovely day! Delightful surprise requires you to dash out on trip quite unexpectedly, so be on the alert. Remember the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . .

A child born today will have firmly fixed ideas, so it would be wise to implant, early in life, open-mindedness in all matters. Otherwise, much that can bring happiness will be lost. Whatever your child undertakes he or she will follow through to its conclusion. Vocations dealing with transportation or requiring travel, reports or personnel work should provide a substantial livelihood for your offspring.

The Political Pot

B.C.'s voters' list is expected to shrink for the June 9 election.

Of 15 ridings reported to date to the chief electoral officer, 14 have shown decreases in voting strength. Unless Victoria and Vancouver, whose lists are incomplete, show gains, the new voters' list will be less than last June's 793,073 names.

Reason for reduction is that registrars of voters are cleaning so-called deadwood off the lists. This includes persons who have died or moved since the last election.

Biggest cutback to date is in the Alberni riding where the list has been cut by 3,130 names—down to 9,274.

Oak Bay has been reduced from 10,303 to 10,200, Saanich from 23,061 to 22,868. Esquimalt has increased from 11,965 to 12,386.

Progressive-Conservatives in Delta have decided against running a candidate, and they may not contest the South Okanagan riding.

★ ★ ★

The old guard members are Cecil Steele, Omineca; B. M. MacIntyre, Mackenzie; J. G. Gould, Vancouver-Burrard; Andrew Whisker, Cowichan-Newcastle; Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Capt. D. J. Proudfoot and William Straith, Victoria, and Arthur Ash, Saanich.

The election campaign is getting a little rougher as the big day draws nearer.

In Vancouver the other night, T. R. Burnett, Liberal candidate in Vancouver-Point Grey, flayed Social Crediters as "both a Fascist and militaristic group" and compared them with the type of government now in power in Venezuela.

★ ★ ★

Tory Leader Deane Finlayson is on what will probably be his final flying swing through the Interior.

★ ★ ★

Bert Gargrave, once a CCF whip in the Legislature, went out on the proverbial limb Saturday.

He predicted defeat of "the three Tories in the Social Credit cabinet" — Attorney-General Bonner, Finance Minister Gunderson and Education Minister Rolston.

Grid Squabble Centres Around Chicago Star

HAMILTON, Ont. (BUP)—George Blanda, first-string quarterback of the Chicago Bears, was in the fold for the Hamilton Tiger Cats today while the Bears threatened legal action on the advice of Bert Bell, commissioner of professional football in the United States.

Blanda signed with Hamilton of the Big Four League on Saturday and his "jump" started the Bears howling foul and put Bell on the warpath against Canadian football.

Chicago coach George Halas called Blanda's signing illegal. He said the 25-year-old former University of Kentucky pivot star and place-kicking specialist had broken the reserve clause in his contract which gave the Bears an option on his services for the 1953 season.

TOP CITY AMATEUR TALENT SINGS, PLAYS IN TWO-DAY SHOW

A concert, featuring Victoria's best talent, will be staged Wednesday and Thursday of this week by the Victoria North Kiwanis Club.

Taking part will be Ruth Champion, rose bowl winner at the recent Victoria Musical Festival; Wendy Gerry, violinist, who was judged outstanding junior entrant in the festival; Adele Goult, another festival winner, and Stanley Martin, well-known base baritone.

A special feature of the concert will be appearance of the Victoria High-Central Schools' Band, which received top marks at the B.C. Musical Festival, beating the famous Kitsilano Boys' Band.

Also taking part will be First United Church Choir, under direction of Roberto Wood, and glee clubs from Mount Douglas and Royal Oak High Schools. Betty and Her Buddies, a popular singing group, will also participate.

The concert will be given in the auditorium of Victoria High School, starting at 8 both nights.

Chest Staying Within 35 Per Cent Budget Cut

By trimming their budgets, doing without necessary equipment, and instituting a few salary cuts, Community Chest agencies have managed to stay within the 35 per cent budget cut forced on them by the failure of the October Red Feather drive to meet its objective.

Aim was $195,000, but only $152,300 was realized.

"All agencies have co-operated fully," said R. B. Matthews, Chest president, at a meeting of directors.

Miss Marjorie Baird, reporting for the Victorian Order of Nurses, said the order had not replaced one nurse who had left the service, and was using one car less than previously.

The YMCA increased some of its rates to offset the loss of income, but F. V. Shoemaker, secretary, said "if extras are needed we don't know where they are coming from."

Harry Young, chairman of the Boy Scout Association finance committee, said Scouts are short about $4,000 of their expected revenue.

Fall campaign this year will be headed by J. Courtney Haddock. The objective has not yet been set.

Allies Using Mammoth New Gun in Korea

NEAR THE KOREAN FRONT (UP)—The army revealed today it was blasting Communist fortifications with a mammoth field artillery howitzer capable of hurling 360-pound shells about 15 miles.

Second in size only to the atomic cannon, the new 240 millimeter howitzer is so large it requires two specially designed trailers and tractors to move it and a powerful crane to place it in position.

The army unveiled the king-sized cannon at a demonstration held in a blinding rainstorm and witnessed by Lt.-Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Eighth Army commander, President and Mrs. Syngma Rhee of South Korea, almost 200 military guests and a corps of United Nations war correspondents.

It was the most spectacular of several new weapons shown at a display of the United Nations' ever-growing fighting power. New vehicles and weapons, including a light hand grenade, also were exhibited.

"We are just beginning to receive some of our new equipment in Korea," Taylor said.

18 Horses Suffocate in Track Fire

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin swept through a newly-built barn at Buelah Park race track Sunday and first reports indicated 18 horses quartered here for the spring meet suffocated.

Officials at suburban Grove City said the fire broke out early in the afternoon and smouldered for some time before it was reported.

They said two other horses were believed so seriously burned that they would have to be shot.

One fireman was overcome by smoke and taken to hospital.

Value of the horses was not immediately determined. They had been brought here for the spring meeting of 19 days which started Saturday at the suburban track.

Firemen fought the blaze for three hours before bringing it under control.

They said 33 stalls in an annex to the main barns at the track were affected by the fire.

Carnival, Bingo and Baby Contest Conclude Esquimalt Celebrations

A carnival and bingo session at the Legion Hall on Admiral's Road brought the 1953 Esquimalt celebrations to an end Saturday night.

Large crowds marked every phase of the two-day program.

A dance at the Fraser Street Hall Friday night was followed by a series of children's events Saturday. There was a parade of decorated bikes, trikes, buggies and wagons, and later a pet show.

A baby-beautiful contest in the afternoon was judged by Surgeon Lt.-Cmdr. W. J. McCorkell, RCN, of Edmonton, and Nursing Sister, Margaret McEachern, RCN, of Toronto. There were 18 babies in the show.

First prize for babies between 9 and 13 months went to Nadean Zala, 11-month daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Zala, 959 Esquimalt Road. There were 11 babies in this class.

The class for 14 months to two years was won by 17-month-old Bruce Denniston, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Denniston, 510 Admirals Road.

Other winners were:

Class 9 to 13 months—Heather Woods, 13-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Woods, 469 Fraser Street, 2nd prize; Gordon William Godsmark, 9-month son of Mr. and Mrs. George Godsmark, 561 Head Street, 3rd prize.

Class 14 months to two years—Carol Marjory Stockley, 20-month daughter of Mr. and Mrs Allan Stockley, 476 Sturdee Street, 2nd prize; Stephen Sallis, 15-month son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sallis, 516 Admirals Road.

Winners in a soap-box derby held on Macaulay Street Hill were Kenny Williams and Bruce Plaxton. Kenny won five classes, two for boys 13 and under, two for boys 16 and under, and the Esquimalt Day special. Bruce won the Esquimalt open race.

The boxing event scheduled for open-air presentation of the Legion Hall was canceled because of cool winds.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (CP)—The Rebecca Brown prize in botany at the Rand University was awarded to a native student, Clifford Marojole. He previously won a bursary for native students who specialize in soil erosion problems.

ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford
Former Governess to Her Majesty

DISTRIBUTED BY NEA SERVICE

The intimate biography of Queen Elizabeth, written by her good friend and former governess Marion Crawford, appears exclusively in the Victoria Daily Times in 28 chapters. Out of her 17 years of close association with the royal family "Crawfie" has previously published "The Little Princess" and "Mother and Queen: The Story of Queen Mary."

VII

Queen Elizabeth was planning her first home at the time when I was planning mine. I had been married just one month when I sat with my husband in Westminster Abbey and saw the little girl I had watched growing to regal womanhood married to the man of her choice.

Through all the pageantry and music I thought of the truest meaning of a wedding—the making of a home.

I remembered the Princess saying to me, as she looked up from a heap of patterns she was studying, "Do you think that the blue or the beige would go better in this room?"

She was speaking then of Sunninghill Park, which not long after was to be burned to the ground. But we often spoke of my own little home, Nottingham Cottage, which was being got ready at the same time.

Opposite the front door of that same cottage was the very door from which Prince Philip stepped out on his wedding morning.

And from my window above I would often see also a figure dressed in gray, with a sort of nun's veil round her head. This was Princess Andrew of Greece, Lord Mountbatten's sister, and the mother of Prince Philip.

Sometimes I would pass her on the walks leading from Kensington Palace as she went out to do her shopping, and I would wish her a good morning. Most often she would smile an answer, but sometimes, probably wrapped in thought, she would not seem to realize anything of her surroundings.

High Prices Appalled Elizabeth

The high cost of everything appalled Princess Elizabeth when she was planning her home. She and Princess Margaret had been brought up to be careful with money. With goods, too.

In furnishing her home, Princess Elizabeth was able to draw on stocks of material that her mother, a careful buyer, had accumulated. Much of it had been bought before the war at the British Industries Fairs and other exhibitions.

Nothing that comes to the Royal Family, by purchase or or gift, is ever wasted. Everything is labeled and put away, safe from moths and other dangers, and catalogues are kept of all the Royal possessions, so that when anything is needed it may be available at once.

Princess Elizabeth would say to me, "Mummy says she has something that might do for this corner. That will save a little expense anyway."

The Queen was kind to me in this way, too. She allowed me to choose several pieces to take to my own first home.

"Have anything you like, Crawfie," she was good enough to say; and I spent many delightful hours assessing the merits of various pieces of furniture in relation to my tiny rooms of the cottage.

In the end I chose a tall combined china cupboard and desk and a mahogany table, among several other things, and these became the most admired pieces in my dining room.

Own Place Was Crawfie's Dream

All through my palace years, when I was moving to and from London, Windsor, and occasionally Balmoral, I was constantly haunted by a desire to have a place of my own; to be able to come down to a kitchen where my cups were laid out, to find my cutlery stacked neatly in a drawer, to eat at my own table.

For years I collected things for a home that did not yet exist. I would search the antique shops in Church Street, Kensington, for pieces of china and other articles that appealed to me. To get a bargain was a great thrill.

It gave me a sense of achievement, a feeling that so many pounds or shillings had been saved—forgetting that there had been no real need to spend money at all.

I surrounded myself with belongings which gave me, even in the gloomy, impersonal recess of Buckingham Palace, a feeling of having an individual private life.

But I knew that a cupboard or two full of my own china would never take the place of a real home. So I looked forward to my own, at the same time when Queen Elizabeth was planning hers.

When I did eventually move into Nottingham Cottage I often changed the layout of the furniture in the rooms. In the middle of something else I would suddenly get up and say, "I think that little easy chair would look better on the right of the fireplace"—and immediately go over and place it there. George, my husband, found this hard to understand, but smiled indulgently.

UK Will Defend Suez

Tension Mounts In Canal Zone

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today Britain will defend her Suez Canal Zone bases if Egypt attacks them.

Churchill offered to renew at any time Anglo-Egyptian negotiations on the canal zone's future.

He said that if Egypt were to agree to the United States joining any new talks, "that would be still better."

But, Churchill emphasized, Britain has "no choice but to defend" herself in the canal zone if the Egyptians take threatening actions.

CAIRO (Reuters) — Premier Mohamed Naguib said Sunday "we have washed our hands of Anglo-Egyptian negotiations on the Suez Canal."

"We are nearing a great battle and every Egyptian should be ready for the supreme sacrifice," the Egyptian premier said in a speech delivered from a high dais facing the grave of Egypt's unknown soldier.

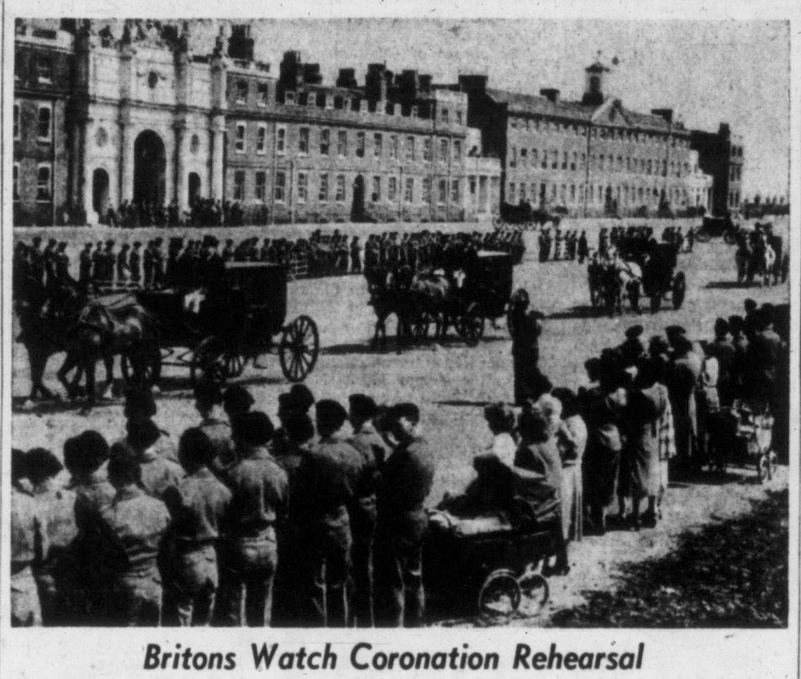
In other parts of the speech Naguib referred to Britain as "the enemy."

The Anglo-Egyptian talks on the Suez, which Egypt wants Britain to evacuate unconditionally, have been suspended. The premier's speech was not necessarily regarded as an announcement that the talks have been broken off, however.

The fiery words, which echoed statements in the last few days about an approaching "national struggle," seemed aimed at satisfying the more impatient members of Naguib's revolutionary council—and impressing John Foster Dulles, United States secretary of state, who arrives here today on his mid-East tour.

"We have washed our hands of Anglo-Egyptian negotiations on the Suez Canal and should be grateful to Britain for it," said Naguib. "Freedom is not a paper gift. . . . The true price of freedom is warm flowing blood."

CAIRO (CP) — State Secretary John Foster Dulles arrived by plane here today on the first stop of a 12-country fact-finding tour of the Middle East while Anglo-Egyptian tension mounted over the deadlocked Anglo-Egyptian talks on the future of the Suez Canal Zone. Dulles said he hoped his visit would "help clear up some misunderstandings," but he did not mention the Suez dispute.



Britons Watch Coronation Rehearsal

With an estimated crowd of 40,000 watching the Prime Minister's Royal Clarences rolled through the streets of London in a rehearsal of the Coronation procession on June 2. The Clarences are carriages pulled by handsomely decorated teams of horses. Rehearsal of the carriages which will carry the Queen and the royal family was held Sunday. (See story, Page 5.)

16 Rescued After Ship Founders in Big Storm

Heavy Seas, Wind Hamper Rescue Efforts Today; Bodies Recovered

GRAND MARIS, Minn. (AP) — The Great Lakes freighter Henry Steinbrenner, laden with iron ore, went down off Isle Royale in Lake Superior early today. At noon the coast guard station here had rescue-ship reports that 16 of the 31 men aboard had been picked up and one body recovered.

Other reports said as many as 22 men had been saved and that another body had been sighted.

One rescue vessel, the Clemson, reported she had seven crew members aboard, none in bad condition.

Commander Donald Call of the Grand Marais coast guard station said the ore ship Joseph Thompson reported she had saved seven men and that several were in need of medical attention.

The William Sykes, another vessel at the scene, reported she had "several" survivors.

Some of those rescued were pulled from the paralyzingly cold water wearing life jackets.

Winds 55 to 60 miles an hour buffeted the area Sunday night and early today. Heavy seas prevailed today as rescue boats headed for the scene, making slow progress as they bucked extremely rough water.

A report from the Clemson at 7.25 a.m. said the Steinbrenner had radioed her hatches had blown off in strong winds and that she was taking water.

New Blizzards Weather Menace

WINNIPEG (CP) — A spring blizzard was raging across the western prairies today after a wild week-end of snow and sleet that brought Saskatchewan what weather officials described as possibly the worst May storm in living memory.

The storm was sweeping Saskatchewan and Manitoba, and the weather office said temperatures will remain below freezing in most regions today.

Up to 6.30 today, precipitation readings included: Regina 1.83 inches, Dafoe 1.41, Yorkton 1.14, Winnipeg .85 and Rivers .22.

At 10 a.m., SDT, Winnipeg was being lashed by a 30-mile-an-hour north wind. The temperature was about freezing and the humidity 100 per cent.

The storm was blamed on a storm centre which stalled in North Dakota, forming "an intense storm area." It followed almost week of blistering heat in Manitoba which sent the mercury to record highs.

Intermittant thunder storms moved into Manitoba Saturday night and gradually merged in a heavy general rain. Overnight the rain changed to sleet and snow.

The proposal has been denounced by Eisenhower administration officials as a move that could impair national security.

LONDON (Reuters)—Colonial Secretary Oliver Lyttleton will fly to Kenya Wednesday for a first-hand deview of conditions in that troubled colony, the government announced. (See Gold Coast story page 3).

Dulles Visit Draws Protests From Israel

TEL AVIV Israel (AP)—Police laid a criminal charge today against Zvi Breitstein, editor of the Communist daily Kol Haam, because of his insults to State Secretary John Foster Dulles of the United States.

Breitstein, who was released on bail, was charged under article 77 of the Criminal Code—against "defamation of princes, heads of foreign states and other dignitaries."

Kol Haam has assailed the visit of Dulles, scheduled for Wednesday likening him to Hitler and urging parents to "hide their children while he will be in the country." The paper headlined the American's landing at Cairo today with these words: "The war-monger has arrived in Cairo."

The police also arrested a number of youths caught passing out Red-style leaflets calling for anti-Dulles demonstrations Wednesday.

"Dulles go home" signs also have been painted on some walls in Tel Aviv and Haifa.

Israeli police have been ordered to take special precautionary measures to protect the U.S. secretary of state and his party and prevent any demonstrations, it was learned.

The place where the group will spend the night Wednesday, before their departure for Jerusalem, has been kept secret.

YOUNGSTERS DIG BEATS

Hi-Times Staff Takes Over Tuesday

When the night assignment group of Hi-Times writers from Greater Victoria high schools goes on duty tonight, its members will be taking the first steps towards production of Tuesday's regular editions of The Times.

Once a year these Hi-Times writers do a special assignment. It entails coverage of general news in the city and environs, Monday night and Tuesday, from council meetings to club lunches, from city court to waterfront coverage. Their stories run in all editions Tuesday.

The students undertake a variety of jobs, in sports and women's departments, on the general beats of the city and on the copy desk.

They do a big-time newspaper job for a day: get their facts, write their stories, watch the operations which convert the spoken word into type, see the pages of the paper made up and go to the stereotypers' shop to be made into the plates which go on the presses.

They are always enthusiastic workers on this assignment, not alone because it means a day of freedom from the classroom.

Teachers approve the day of newspaper experience. And the students, some of whom will make journalism their life work, consider their assignments a highlight in adventure.

Readers of The Times will see their stories under by-lines in their Tuesday newspapers.

'CONFERENCE AT HIGHEST LEVEL'

Churchill Calls For Top Talks

Reds' PW Proposal Wins Prime Minister's Support

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today he is in favor of a high-level conference of the world's leading powers in the immediate future.

Churchill said such a parley should not be hampered by any long agenda but be carried out in an atmosphere of informality and privacy and even seclusion.

Churchill did not say specifically whether he thought Premier Malenkov, President Eisenhower and he should get together. He said simply he believes a "conference at the highest level of the leading powers" ought to be held without delay.

The prime minister reviewed what he called the "change in attitude and, we all hope, mood," that has taken place in Russia and the Kremlin itself since Stalin's death.

He appealed for caution in "doing or saying" anything that might give the Soviet leaders ground for suspicion.

"It would be a mistake to assume that nothing could be settled unless or until everything is settled."

Basis Seen for Armistice Pact

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill said today that there is no reason why the new Communist proposal for disposing of anti-Red prisoners in Korea should not provide the basis for an armistice agreement if it is sincere.

"The question of the conditions governing an exchange of prisoners has really been reduced to terms which no longer involve any difference of principle," Churchill said in opening a two-day full-dress House of Commons debate on foreign affairs.

"All that remains now is method and procedure . . . .

"There is no reason known to me at present to assume that it (the Communist plan) may not form the basis of an agreement, provided always that it is put forward by the Communists in a spirit of sincerity."

In a sweeping review of foreign affairs Churchill said:

1—The situation in Indo-China seems less serious than it was feared. "In my opinion the sudden advance of elements of the Vietminh forces toward the Siamese frontier should not lead us to conclude that it is a Soviet-inspired move inconsistent with the new attitude of the Soviet government."

2—Premier Gen. Mohammed Naguib of Egypt, in demanding that Britain evacuate the Suez canal zone unconditionally, may be in the position often encountered by dictators—of being dictated to by others. "It unfortunately was necessary for General Naguib to obtain as much popularity as possible by the well-known process of taking it out on the British."

It is almost obvious, Churchill said, that there could be an agreement on a truce in Korea "almost instantly" when the Communists are ready.

Patience, Understanding Required

The new Communist prisoner proposal "requires patience and sympathetic understanding," he said.

Churchill said he doubts whether Korea can be unified at this time and he said that Britain will settle for an armistice.

It is a wonder, he said, that the dispute over the disposition of prisoners has been kept alive so long.

"Our immediate aim is, of course, the conclusion of a truce in Korea," Churchill said.

"I doubt very much whether there could be any agreement at the present time on a united Korea."

But time might be a healing factor, he said, if both sides in the Korean war could stop where they are and replace foreign troops with Koreans.

"Therefore, I should be content with even a truce and a cease fire for the moment," Churchill said.

Duncan Logger Remanded on Murder Charge

Father of Seven Killed in Fight

(Special to the Times)

DUNCAN—A 37-year-old logger was charged with murder in RCMP Court here today.

Frank Homeniuk of Duncan, accused of killing Eric Lindstrom, 45, was remanded by Magistrate G. A. Tisdale until May 19 for preliminary inquiry.

The charge was laid after Lindstrom died in King's Daughters' Hospital Sunday following an operation for head injuries suffered on downtown Station Street at midnight Saturday.

The victim is the father of seven children.

Police said Homeniuk had driven to where Lindstrom was standing on the sidewalk, left his car, and struck Lindstrom one blow. Lindstrom apparently injured his head when he fell on the cement walk, and died several hours after an operation by Dr. C. H. Beevor-Potts.

Dr. D. B. Roxburgh of Victoria was scheduled to make a post-mortem examination today. His findings will determine the date for an inquest, RCMP said.

Homeniuk will be represented by David Williams, Duncan lawyer.

Off for Months

Prime Minister Churchill told the Commons today that Foreign Minister Anthony Eden, recovering from two gall bladder operations, will be away from his desk "for several months." Churchill, who took over the foreign affairs portfolio when Eden went into hospital early in April, said that "only if I find the burden more than I can bear shall I ask for relief."

Bus Drivers May Reduce Pay Demand

B.C. Electric bus drivers and maintenance men may reduce their wage demands from 23 cents to 10 cents per hour in an effort to reach a settlement with the company.

It is understood the executive of the Street Railwaymen's Union, bargaining agent for the 2,800 members in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster, is "considering" the reduced demand.

Negotiations will continue Wednesday when the union executive will meet with A. E. Grauer, company president.

Union membership last week voted 80 per cent in favor of rejecting a conciliation board majority recommendation to pay an additional six cents per hour, plus fringe benefits worth approximately one cent.

The company accepted the award.

Original demand of the union was for a 23-cent wage increase, plus benefits that would cost the company from 23 to 25 cents.

Present pay of bus drivers is $1.51 per hour.

Shah's Own Estates Won By Mossadegh

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — A royal decree announced today the transfer of the shah's privately-held estates to the government of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh. This is another victory for Mossadegh in his campaign to bring the royal court under complete government domination.

The decree was the first substantial result of the "accord" established between Sah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi and the Mossadegh regime after clashes in March.

The decree recommended that the government in taking over ownership of the royal lands should rent plots to peasants on a 99-year lease.

IWA Plans New Strategy in Coast Wage Negotiations

PORTLAND, Ore. (CP)—Strategy in deadlocked negotiations with operators was planned by CIO woodworkers from the United States and British Columbia at a meeting here Sunday.

A. F. Hartung union president said refusal of employers to make offers of contract improvements made the step necessary. He said it is the first time in the history of the 17-year-old union that the B.C. district has been brought directly into coastal negotiations.

'Truly Creative Theatre'

At the Dominion Drama Festival awards luncheon held Sunday in the Crystal Ballroom of the Empress Hotel, Governor-General Vincent Massey handed the Calvert Trophy, top award of the week-long festival, to Robert Rivard of Montreal, director of the La Jeune Scene Production, "Zone." (See story, Page 2). Placed first among eight plays seen during week, adjudicator Pierre Lefevre described it as "truly creative theatre." Mr. Rivard, in addition to directing, won best-actor award for his portrayal of "Passe-Partout" in play. Seen in background, proffering $1,000 cheque which goes with trophy, is Richard MacDonald, Ottawa, executive secretary-treasurer of DDF. Statuette is hand-carved in native wood by Miss Florence Wyle, RCA Toronto. Regional winners will each receive similar trophies.

Thing I noticed about th' Drama Festival—none o' th' casts refused t' go on jus' before th' curtain went up.

Bonner Insists Douk Curfew Ottawa's Job

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Attorney-General Robert Bonner Sunday reiterated his statement that any curfew to curb the activities of radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors should be imposed by the federal government.

Speaking to a meeting of Lower Slocan Valley residents, he said he could give no assurance of a curfew and other safety measures requested by non-Doukhobors in the area.

Mr. Bonner said there was "absolutely no foundation" to reports that Orthodox Doukhobods had handed authorities a list of names of suspected Freedomite terrorists. He said such a list was offered but never produced.

The attorney-general speaks in Oak Bay tonight.

YOUNGSTERS DIG BEATS

Hi-Times Staff Takes Over Tuesday

When the night assignment group of Hi-Times writers from Greater Victoria high schools goes on duty tonight, its members will be taking the first steps towards production of Tuesday's regular editions of The Times.

Once a year these Hi-Times writers do a special assignment. It entails coverage of general news in the city and environs, Monday night and Tuesday, from council meetings to club lunches, from city court to waterfront checks. Their stories run in all editions Tuesday.

The students undertake a variety of jobs, in sports and women's departments, on the general beats of the city and on the copy desk.

They do a big-time newspaper job for a day: get their facts, write their stories, watch the operations which convert the spoken word into type, see the pages of the paper made up and go to the stereotypers' shop to be made into the plates which go on the presses.

They are always enthusiastic workers on this assignment, not alone because it means a day of freedom from the classroom.

Teachers approve the day of newspaper experience. And the students, some of whom will make journalism their life work, consider their assignments a highlight in adventure.

Readers of The Times will see their stories under by-lines in their Tuesday newspapers.

UK Will Defend Suez

Tension Mounts In Canal Zone

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today Britain will defend her Suez Canal Zone bases if Egypt attacks them.

Churchill offered to renew at any time Anglo-Egyptian negotiations on the canal zone's future.

He said that if Egypt were to agree to the United States joining any new talks, "that would be still better."

But, Churchill emphasized, Britain has "no choice but to defend" herself in the canal zone if the Egyptians take threatening actions.

CAIRO (Reuters) — Premier Mohamed Naguib said Sunday "we have washed our hands of Anglo-Egyptian negotiations on the Suez Canal."

"We are nearing a great battle and every Egyptian should be ready for the supreme sacrifice," the Egyptian premier said in a speech delivered from a high dais facing the grave of Egypt's unknown soldier.

In other parts of the speech Naguib referred to Britain as "the enemy."

The Anglo-Egyptian talks on the Suez, which Egypt wants Britain to evacuate unconditionally, have been suspended. The premier's speech was not necessarily regarded as an announcement that the talks have been broken off, however.

The fiery words, which echoed statements in the last few days about an approaching "national struggle," seemed aimed at satisfying the more impatient members of Naguib's revolutionary council—and impressing John Foster Dulles, United States secretary of state, who arrives here today on his mid-East tour.

"We have washed our hands of Anglo-Egyptian negotiations on the Suez Canal and should be grateful to Britain for it," said Naguib. "Freedom is not a paper gift. . . . The true price of freedom is warm flowing blood."

CAIRO (CP) — State Secretary John Foster Dulles arrived by plane here today on the first stop of a 12-country fact-finding tour of the Middle East while Anglo-Egyptian tension mounted over the deadlocked Anglo-Egyptian talks on the future of the Suez Canal Zone. Dulles said he hoped his visit would "help clear up some misunderstandings," but he did not mention the Suez dispute.

16 of 31 Aboard Picked Up Safely

GRAND MARIS, Minn. (AP) — The Great Lakes freighter Henry Steinbrenner, laden with iron ore, went down off Isle Royale in Lake Superior early today. At noon the coast guard station here had rescue-ship reports that 16 of the 31 men aboard had been picked up and one body recovered.

Other reports said as many as 22 men had been saved and that another body had been sighted.

One rescue vessel, the Clemson, reported she had seven crew members aboard, none in bad condition.

Commander Donald Call of the Grand Marais coast guard station said the ore ship Joseph Thompson reported she had saved seven men and that several were in need of medical attention.

The William Sykes, another vessel at the scene, reported she had "several" survivors.

Some of those rescued were pulled from the paralyzingly cold water wearing life jackets.

Winds 55 to 60 miles an hour buffeted the area Sunday night and early today. Heavy seas prevailed today as rescue boats headed for the scene, making slow progress as they bucked extremely rough water.

A report from the Clemson at 7.25 a.m. said the Steinbrenner had radioed her hatches had blown off in strong winds and that she was taking water.

Churchill Approves Talk With Top Reds

Soviet's 'Change in Attitude' Reviewed
Prisoner Proposal May Lead to Korea Truce

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today he is in favor of a high-level conference of the world's leading powers in the immediate future.

Churchill said such a parley should not be hampered by any long agenda but be carried out in an atmosphere of informality and privacy and even seclusion.

Churchill did not say specifically whether he thought Premier Malenkov, President Eisenhower and he should get together. He said simply he believes a "conference at the highest level of the leading powers" ought to be held without delay.

The prime minister reviewed what he called the "change in attitude and, we all hope, mood," that has taken place in Russia and the Kremlin itself since Stalin's death.

He appealed for caution in "doing or saying" anything that might give the Soviet leaders ground for suspicion.

Basis Seen for Armistice Pact

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill said today that there is no reason why the new Communist proposal for disposing of anti-Red prisoners in Korea should not provide the basis for an armistice agreement if it is sincere.

"The question of the conditions governing an exchange of prisoners has really been reduced to terms which no longer involve any difference of principle," Churchill said in opening a two-day full-dress House of Commons debate on foreign affairs.

"All that remains now is method and procedure . . . .

"There is no reason known to me at present to assume that it (the Communist plan) may not form the basis of an agreement, provided always that it is put forward by the Communists in a spirit of sincerity."

In a sweeping review of foreign affairs Churchill said:

1—The situation in Indo-China seems less serious than it was feared. "In my opinion the sudden advance of elements of the Vietminh forces toward the Siamese frontier should not lead us to conclude that it is a Soviet-inspired move inconsistent with the new attitude of the Soviet government."

2—Premier Gen. Mohammed Naguib of Egypt, in demanding that Britain evacuate the Suez canal zone unconditionally, may be in the position often encountered by dictators—of being dictated to by others. 'It unfortunately was necessary for General Naguib to obtain as much popularity as possible by the well-known process of taking it out on the British."

It is almost obvious, Churchill said, that there could be an agreement on a truce in Korea "almost instantly" when the Communists are ready.

Patience, Understanding Required

The new Communist prisoner proposal "requires patience and sympathetic understanding," he said.

Churchill said he doubts whether Korea can be unified at this time and he said that Britain will settle for an armistice.

It is a wonder, he said, that the dispute over the disposition of prisoners has been kept alive so long.

"Our immediate aim is, of course, the conclusion of a truce in Korea," Churchill said.

"I doubt very much whether there could be any agreement at the present time on a united Korea."

But time might be a healing factor, he said, if both sides in the Korean war could stop where they are and replace foreign troops with Koreans.

"Therefore, I should be content with even a truce and a cease fire for the moment," Churchill said.
